REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

There were forty-eight (48) regular meetings and eight (8) special meetings of the Board and the volume of business continues to increase year after year due to the passage of additional state laws and Town by-laws, which require the Board's attention, and due to the continued growth of the Town.

Records are kept of the volume of business conducted each year, and the 1972 records indicate that more than 2,600 persons visited the office, more than 2,500 telephone calls were received and more than 3,500 letters and messages were prepared to those concerned.

The work of the Board includes, as the Licensing Authorities, the issuance of numerous types of licenses. A total of $20,522.00 in license fees and $590.50 in advertising reimbursements were received. The total license fees received exceeded the total amount disbursed during 1972 to maintain the Selectmen's Department.

Highlights of the year's activities are included in the following paragraphs:

The Board filed application to the State to participate in the "Topics" program. Under Topics (Traffic Operation Program to Increase Capacity and Safety) a preliminary study will be made by the State Department of Public Works Engineers for local traffic improvements at no charge to the Town.

Various improvements have been made at the Center Town Hall. The Selectmen's Department has been moved to the upstairs area and the Town Clerk's office will be moved to a new street-floor location to better serve the public.

The Town passed various new by-laws at the 1972 Annual Town Meeting and among these, regulations were adopted to control yard and garage sales in residential areas, and to commence a recycling program of waste paper. Later, it is expected a Regional Recycling Program will be implemented with the City of Lowell and the Raytheon Company. The Town Meeting also approved a plan to financially assist the Mental Health Association of Greater Lowell, Inc. Town Meeting action also was approved to establish a Study Committee for future Town sewer projects.

A Charter Commission Study was authorized by the voters at the 1972 Annual Town Election and the report of their recommendations will soon be available for all voters to consider.

New state legislation was passed relating to the restoration of Crystal Lake and the engineering study is now underway.

The Emergency Employment Act Program has continued during 1972 but in some cases resignations have been received as these employees have found employment in private industry. It is possible that the program may be gradually phased out in 1973.

Annual Labor Negotiations continue for the Highway and Fire Departments and commenced for the Police Department in 1972. A Labor Relations Advisor was not appointed as the Selectmen assumed these duties and the appropriation of $2,000.00 was not disbursed.

The usual volume of business continued and involved such subjects as Dog Complaint Hearings, Pole and Conduit Location Hearings, Gasoline and Oxygen Storage Location Hearings, and new Street Acceptance Hearings.

At the Annual Town Election, the voters approved the referendum to allow Beano games in our Town and in accordance with this approval, the Selectmen have approved the qualifications of applicants for such amusement in our Town. Final licenses are granted by a State agency.

The Selectmen also established and appointed members to a Capital Planning and Budgeting Committee, an Anti-Litter Committee in conjunction with local organizations, and a 1975 Bicentennial Celebration Committee.

The Engineering Department of the County of Middlesex has assisted the Selectmen in survey work of Town boundaries, and the placing of stone markers, to show the Town line between Westford and Chelmsford, in the area of Pine Hill Road and between Lowell and Chelmsford, in the area of Stedman Street.

New Traffic Regulations were implemented for North Road between Route 495 and Route 3, and now heavy trucking is not permitted to travel over this road during nighttime hours.

Various requests have been received for new sidewalk installations, and it is hoped that some of this work can be accomplished in 1973.

The Town has received substantial funds from the Federal Revenue Sharing Plan, and the voters will have the opportunity to express their wishes as to the future use of these funds at the 1973 Annual Town Meeting. The Selectmen have approved the use of these funds as a means of reducing the tax rate.

The Selectmen have been concerned over the possible loss of some State Revenues now that the Revaluation of Town property has been completed, and the Board placed this subject before the voters during 1972, to allow them one more opportunity to decide whether the program should commence. The voters did, however, approve the Revaluation Plan and it was instituted in 1972.

During July 1972, the Town had the misfortune to be within the path of a Tornado which struck parts of Tyngsboro and then left a path of destruction through North Chelmsford and through other sections of the Town toward Carlisle. The clean-up work placed a severe strain on Town employees and equipment. Town officials received much help and assistance from State and Federal officials and agencies. Finally, through the cooperation of Federal officials, aid was given by units from Fort Devens. The assistance given was substantial and we are greatly indebted to the Army for this help. Later, the Town held an Army Appreciation Day for all those persons who had done so much to aid our Townspeople.

Information was received during 1972 that the State Welfare Department might close our local Welfare office. A consultation was held with a State Director to determine if our local office could be retained. We are pleased to learn that our Welfare Office at the Center Town Hall will remain open.

The Selectmen have made various personnel changes within the department during 1972, and Mrs. Evelyn M. Haines has been appointed the new Administrative Assistant. Mrs. Haines has a staff to assist her comprised of Mrs. Marion E. McCready, Mrs. Joan E. Jangraw and Miss Gail Sterling.

We now express our sincere appreciation to the Townspeople who have placed their trust in us over the past year, and to our staff of appointed officials and the many employees of the Town who assist us, as well as the other elected officials and their assistants who lend their assistance from time to time, so that we can fulfill our service to make Chelmsford a better place in which to live.

Respectfully submitted,
GERALD J. LANNAN, Chairman

QUESTION 3.

“Shall a commission be elected to frame a charter for the Town of Chelmsford?”

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

March 13, 1972

Moderator Daniel J. Coughlin, Jr. called the meeting to order at 7:45 P.M., recognizing the presence of a quorum. The following tellers were appointed:

Arnaud Blackadar	Edward Marshall
Eugene Crane	James Harrington
Roland Boucher	Robert Sullivan

Selectman Gerald Lannan waived the reading of the sheriff's return of the warrant.

Mr. Lannan read the following tribute to retiring Town Clerk, Treasurer-Collector Charlotte P. DeWolf:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:

I take this opportunity to call to your attention an event that I believe should be recognized by the townspeople, that event being that this will probably be the last time that our Town Clerk, Mrs. Charlotte P. DeWolf will be officiating at a town meeting in that capacity.

Mrs. DeWolf has been an employee of the Town since 1947. She was elected to the office of Town Clerk in 1956 and has served as Town Clerk continuously since that time. I therefore ask this town meeting to accept the following resolution:

'Be It Resolved that the Town of Chelmsford desiring to do honor to its Town Clerk, Mrs. Charlotte P. DeWolf, recognizing her long service to the Town and her loyalty to her position does vote that this resolution wishing her well and good health to enjoy her retirement be entered as a part of the proceedings of this town meeting.'

1972 was a year when a number of significant events occurred — a time when a number of important trends emerged — a time when people were productively active.

The Board of Education of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts' leadership role in education began to emerge more actively in its statements of general philosophy, policy and goals for public education.

The ten educational goals developed by the State Board of Education are:

1. Physical and Emotional Well-Being
2. Basic Communication Skills
3. Effective Uses of Knowledge
4. Capacity and Desire for Lifelong Learning
5. Citizenship in a Democratic Society
6. Respect for the Community of Man
7. Occupational Competence
8. Understanding of the Environment
9. Individual Values and Attitudes
10. Creative Interests and Talents

Each public school system in the Commonwealth was asked to evaluate its educational program in response to the following questions:

1. What policies and programs are presently in operation that serve as a means of attaining these goals?
2. To what extent have these policies and programs succeeded relative to the attainment of these goals?
3. What new programs will be instituted in the September 1972 to September 1975 period to attain these goals?
4. Given additional funds, what new programs would you initiate in the 1972-73 school year to achieve these goals?

The goals of a school system may be presented in many different ways, but essentially they must speak to what the citizens of the community consider to be the educated person who lives in a world of today . . . who will live in a world of tomorrow where he must be able to contribute, produce, and live the kind of life that is self-satisfying and society-conscious.

The report of the Chelmsford Public Schools relative to the ten educational goals for the public schools of Massachusetts recognizes the need for individual fulfillment and accepts that this will vary for different people. The goals identify the elements of staff (the teacher in the process of learning and teaching) and pupils (the pupil in the process of learning and teaching) in a particular environment (building space and scheduled time). The relationship among program, staff, pupil, and time-period must be understood if the ultimate determination of what must be provided financially now, later, and ultimately is to be done on the most rational basis.

The 1972 year has been a continuation of the many aspects of curriculum work. Interaction of professional people meeting together to review and analyze goals and objectives, to share experiences, has in the best sense provided a unique opportunity for the improvement of the curriculum. In addition, in-service courses have preceded and strengthened curriculum change by allowing certain staff members to continue their study. Different members of the staff have also attended and participated in state and national conferences.

Perhaps what is going on in the curriculum area, both within and without the classroom, is best summarized in the following excerpts from reports filed by school personnel with the superintendent.

(From the Coordinator Reading): "The ultimate goal of a reading program is to provide instruction which will enable pupils to read to the best of their abilities and allow them to make suitable contributions to society.

Reading research indicates that a program which attempts to accomplish this goal must start in kindergarten and continue through grade twelve; and since no single approach has been proven to be a panacea program, it is the responsibility of the school to provide a program tailored to fit the special needs of that particular system. The total program of reading instruction in Chelmsford is based on this premise and in one of gradual and continuous growth which enables pupils to read as well as their abilities permit.

Research further indicates that a well balanced program must be in effect if pupils are going to learn to read, use reading in all school subjects, read at home as well as in school and read for enjoyment.

Balance is provided in the Chelmsford program by including the following types of reading in the total program.

1. Developmental Reading which develops the basic reading skills in an orderly and sequential manner.
2. Functional Reading which develops the ability to locate informational materials, to comprehend such materials and to select materials needed to organize what is read.
3. Recreational and Independent Reading which develops an interest in reading and refines reading tastes.

Learning to read is a highly individualized matter due to unevenness in skills development, learning rate, interest and ability from child to child. The reading program in Chelmsford attempts to provide for these widely differentiated reading needs in all grades by employing capable teachers, by effectively organizing classroom and school grouping and by providing effective teaching methods and materials.

In the primary grades a combination approach is employed utilizing the best features of the language-experience approach, the multi-basal reader approach, a phonics program and the individualized reading plan.

The combination approach for the intermediate grades makes use of multi-basal materials to develop word recognition and comprehension skills, the language-experience approach to develop communicative skills and an individualized plan that encourages wide reading on the part of all pupils.

At the present time many individually prescribed reading programs are in progress in our elementary schools. This is due to: —

1. Teacher commitment to this philosophy of teaching reading.
2. A workshop on individualized reading held during the summer of 1972.
3. The availability to all teachers of a vast amount of materials completed during the summer workshop.
4. Intensive inservice instruction in individualization for all elementary teachers during the present school year.

At the Junior High School level the developmental reading program is adapted to meet the needs of average readers and purports to increase reading competencies and interests of pupils who are about to enter into secondary education.

Remedial instruction at this level is individualized and allows the less able readers to improve their performances at their own particular rate.

The reading program at the High School is completely individualized and is primarily remedial in scope. However, college bound students or any other students who wish to increase their reading competencies may and do enroll in this program.

Despite the changes in organizational planning and improved reading methods, some students fail to respond to classroom instruction because of some mental, social, emotional or neurological reason. These pupils are cared for by reading and learning disability specialists who conduct remedial classes at the elementary, junior and senior high school levels, and also support the classroom teachers in an effort to meet the needs of such pupils.

The reading department will continue to review and evaluate research studies and will make changes in the curriculum when research indicates that change is desirable. The present program of reading instruction, according to research and pupil expectations is sound and fits the needs of a town which is committed to quality education."

(From the Coordinator of Language Arts): "The primary concern of Chelmsford's language arts program is to develop and refine student command of that uniquely human communication tool known as language. For this reason, the language arts program seeks to develop in students an appreciation of their communications heritage, an awareness of role which mass media plays in contemporary communications, and some insights concerning the probable communications patterns and media of the future. The pervasive role of mass media in today's world demands that both visual and verbal languages receive attention in the developmental English program. Verbal language (i.e. oral and written communication) remains, however, the special province and concern of the English program. The Chelmsford language arts program is, therefore, committed to developing in students an understanding of the nature of verbal communication; an appreciation of language and of its specialized applications in literature and in contemporary media; an awareness of various usage levels and their appropriate application; a respect for language and for its role as a vehicle of persuasion and evaluation; and an ability to communicate ideas, opinions, and feelings with precision and clarity.

Recent years have witnessed the evolution of a grades 1-12 Scope and Sequence chart for the coverage of language arts skills, the adoption of a contemporary language arts text series in grades 3-6, and a multi-level spelling program with options for intensive individualization in grades 1-6; the development of teacher-prepared text replacement materials for grades 1 and 2; and the preparation of extensive supplementary units in sentence building, dictionary skills, composition, advertising, mythology, etymology, and poetry for the elementary grades. Many of the latter units have been selected for inclusion in the appendix of the Massachusetts English Advisory Report in which guidelines for the teaching of English in the state of Massachusetts will be set forth.

Elementary workshops in the summer of 1972 developed monitoring systems and reorganized existing curriculum materials for more effective implementation of individualization goals in multi-age classroom settings. Additional options introduced into the creative writing segment of elementary curriculum included Encyclopedia Britannica's Magic Moments film series, Ealing's Story Starter film loops, and several kits, manuals, and workshop-prepared visuals and units for use in grades 3-6. Initial steps toward the development of an elementary literature component took the form of classroom anthologies of children's poetry, folk tales, poetry, fables, and myths in grades 1-6.

An intensive summer workshop in 1972 produced guidelines for the writing program in grades 7-9 and expanded in-class laboratories for individualizing skills instruction. Diagnostic tests were also developed for use in grade 7. These tests served the twin purposes of providing data for individualizing skills instruction in grade 7 and analyzing the effectiveness of the developmental skills program in grades 1-6.

Writing program guidelines and objectives now operate in grades 3-9 to provide intensive coverage of developmental writing skills and numerous opportunities for creative writing projects. Highlights of the program include: weekly student writing and/or editing activities in a classroom-as-workshop setting; a variety of teacher responses in the form of class editing sheets, written comments, taped comments, individual conferences, and personalized spelling sheets; increased emphasis on student responsibility for careful editing of final drafts; and expanded opportunities for student "publication" of successful, well edited work. Through the cooperation of The Sentinel, a local newspaper, selected student writing is published on a weekly basis during the school year.

Steps toward increased individualization in grades 7-9 have taken several forms. Classroom laboratory materials, designed in summer workshops held in 1971 and 1972, provide reinforcement and remediation of language skills and are used in conjunction with the writing program. Learning activities packages are in widespread use. In addition, teacher-initiated projects in Guided Self Analysis (a method for teacher self-evaluation of instructional strategies) and in the development of materials for individualized instruction continue to operate at the Junior High School and McFarlin School, respectively.

Multi-media kits, developed primarily through Title III NDEA funding, are used in connection with units on mythology, the Bible as literature, and specific authors such as Shakespeare and Dickens. These kits have proved invaluable as resources for contract approaches to student learning.

The effective use at the Junior High School of innovative approaches such as team teaching, pupil contracts, visual composing, small group discussion, and role playing and drama activities has been incorporated into a sound instructional program that continues to attract the attention and interest of many visitors to the school system. As a result, Chelmsford Junior High School has been selected as a model site for a day-long conference on teaching English in the junior high school grades.

In the Senior High School, reorganization has taken the form of a wide variety of semester length courses in which developmental language, writing, and speaking skills are organized under thematic, genre, or literary era course structures whose objectives have been specified in terms of various ability and interest levels. These courses constitute an attempt to organize the curriculum into more effective units in preparation for eventual movement into an elective English program. Notable among these units are the individualized reading courses which were considerably expanded through NDEA Title III funding. Film study has been incorporated into the English program as an extension of a 1969 Title I ESEA Grant, and options for student involvement in videotape and slide tape composing activities have been provided in many courses. In addition the sophomore year program provides students with opportunities to analyze the specialized visual and verbal language of mass media and engage in the planning and execution of videotape productions.

An interdisciplinary project involving grade 11 students in a joint English-Social Studies American Studies Course, now in its third year, has been expanded to four classes, and several elective offerings in creative writing and drama permit interested students in grades 10 through 12 to work together in areas of common interest. Five year plans call for increased attention to interdepartmental projects and considerable expansion of elective offerings.

At all grade levels, increased use has been made of visual media including film, videotape, transparencies, and filmstrips. In addition tape recorders are being used in many classrooms, grades 3-12, to create classroom listening centers, to prepare taped evaluation of student writing, to develop remediating materials for students with usage difficulties, and to record student discussions for subsequent evaluation.

Recent research into the problems of English instruction, the effects of the media revolution, and increasing emphasis on greater individualization of instruction have created the demand for a more vital and varied English program than schools have known in the past. In Chelmsford, every attempt is being made to meet this demand through the development of a relevant and contemporary program at all grade levels."

(From the Coordinator of Mathematics): — "The emphasis of mathematics in the Chelmsford School System is on mathematical structures learned in an atmosphere of active inquiry. The student is encouraged to think for himself and to realize that there are often a variety of ways to reach a solution. We have a spiral curriculum where the student meets many basic mathematical ideas very early on an informal level, and he broadens and deepens these concepts as long as he continues in the mathematics sequence.

Recent research in the teaching of mathematics has shown that learning is not made more difficult when instruction includes complete, mathematically correct, and more sophisticated explanations. The modern ideas of mathematical structure make learning easier because they simplify and unify what the children have to learn. This stress upon more adequate understanding enables the Chelmsford School System to expose its students to more mathematics in the same time, and it will make the experience of learning mathematics more rewarding for the student.

Understanding of mathematical concepts and some skill with its techniques are necessary to both the application of mathematics in new situations and to the creation of new mathematics, but these understandings and skills are far from sufficient. To apply and to invent mathematics one must develop proficiency in "problem solving".

Throughout the Chelmsford Mathematics Program there are carefully planned activities that help the pupil to maintain skill and understanding as well as to review earlier work. Many unusual mathematical topics are presented to stimulate interest and to serve as enrichment. Drill of basic facts is presented in various ways that make it more palatable to the children as well as to the teachers. Our program contains many unusual topics and devices that clarify the standard material; broaden children's knowledge of mathematics; and stimulate interest, creativity, and discovery. Planned exposure to the ideas involved helps children see mathematics as an ever-growing structure which releases new ideas from basic concepts and principles.

Chelmsford's program coordinates proven teaching techniques and the latest developments in learning theory with the precise concepts of modern mathematics. Our texts are written in a way that communicates the creative aspect of mathematics. At every stage children are encouraged to discover ideas for themselves, to look for interesting patterns and relationships, and to develop their own generalizations. New topics of interest to children are explored both because of their mathematical value and because they encourage children to put forth their best efforts.

Our program utilizes materials which are written from a modern point of view. Concepts are approached through an understanding of the overall structure of mathematics, and their introduction is appropriately followed up by adequate drill for the mastery of skills. At each stage in the presentation of new concepts, attention is focused on how these concepts unfold from the basic principles presented earlier. Attention is also directed toward certain fundamental principles which later serve to unify the study of advanced mathematics. The interrelationships and structure within the system as well as the routine facts and algorithms are stressed throughout the program.

A coordinated effort has been made in the elementary schools to individualize the teaching of mathematics to students. Supplemental materials, manipulative devices, and skill building materials are being utilized in order to provide for different levels of ability. The child emerging from the elementary program should have a thorough grounding in both arithmetic and intuitive geometry.

The elementary mathematics program in Chelmsford reflects the following beliefs:

- There are fundamental concepts of mathematics which, when isolated and presented clearly, provide the learner with helpful tools for furthering his knowledge.
- At every level children are encouraged to think, to question, and to understand.
- Although every generation should benefit from the learning of past generations, the creativity of each new generation must not be hampered by forcing, upon our pupils, patterns of thought which have served us well but which may be inadequate in the future.
- Mathematics can be taught as it really is: A dynamic subject that holds extreme fascination for children.

In our continuing endeavor to meet the needs of individual students, the elementary mathematics program has made progress toward individualizing its instruction. Although this aspect has been monitored very closely, the progress, enthusiasm and observations, to date, have been most encouraging. Individualizing instruction is currently going on, in varying degrees, in every elementary school.

Our individualized mathematics system is just that: a system or organization of materials, which presents the necessary skills of elementary mathematics in a logical succession of separate steps. In a way, IMS is based on the truth of an old maxim: "Nothing succeeds like success." With each step that is accomplished, a child is highly motivated to move on to the next step.

Diagnostic tests are part of the individualized math curriculum. They enable the teacher to prescribe exactly the materials each child needs. Check-up tests for each skill folder and for each unit of work tell the child whether or not he has mastered the material and is ready to go on to the next folder or unit.

The use of a variety of manipulative devices — centimeter rods, balance scales, measuring cups, etc. — is built into the curriculum. These materials give pupils an opportunity to learn by doing. Also, the pages are color-coded by topics so pupils can easily locate the materials they need.

Traditional education has long been criticized for forcing pupils to learn everything in the same way, at the same time. Individualized instruction provides a way for pupils to learn at their own rate, work at their own level, and use the method of learning best suited to their needs.

With this program, fast learners don't have to wait for the rest of the class to catch up. Slow learners don't feel helplessly behind. Teachers spend more time working individually with pupils or tutoring small groups of pupils.

At the secondary level there is a wide variety of mathematics courses offered. Some of these topics have become the foundations upon which applications to the sciences, engineering, and mathematics itself are built. Most of the topics covered in our secondary mathematics curriculum have become part of what every person should know in order to understand the complex world in which he lives. Many new materials, methods, and grouping practices are employed in the math program to best meet the needs of individuals.

The Junior High School Mathematics Fair was a complete success. Some of our students had their projects displayed at the State Fair as well as at the Regional Meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

During the past year the Mathematics Leagues at both the Junior and Senior High were a credit to their respective schools. Each team competed with their counterpart schools in ten surrounding communities 5-8 times during the school year. Our Junior High School Team earned a favorable second place in its division and a very impressive sixth place for the entire state. The High School Team won the divisional title for an unprecedented third consecutive year.

There was considerable refinement made in grouping procedures for students of grades 7-12 as well as many revisions in both the mathematics curriculum and teaching strategies. Mini courses were offered covering a wide range of interests. Progress was made in our continuing efforts to meet the individual needs of all our students by: developing some individualized learning packages; using programmed materials; implementing a diagnostic testing program; and providing materials to enhance the enrichment and remedial programs.

During the school year 1971-72, a computer terminal was made available to students at the High School. The computer is used as a means to complement the existing mathematics curriculum. The important goals are for him to learn the effective use of a computer as a problem-solving tool and to gain an appreciation of the relationship between mathematics, computers, and problem solving. These objectives can be achieved by providing an efficient means for processing programs written by students.

Problem solving programs are extremely helpful to our high school mathematics students. The student, in order to program the computer to solve the problem, must fully understand the formula and procedure necessary in solving the particular problem.

The aim of the computer program is to develop understanding and skill in modern methods for solving problems in mathematics and science, such as those involving numerical analysis, scientific experimentation, and the various applications of mathematics. We believe this training to be a most effective method for motivating and integrating mathematics and science.

Mathematics is presented as a way of thinking. In the very process of learning the concepts, skills and uses of mathematics, the student will have a valuable experience. What is valuable about the mathematics program in Chelmsford is not that it is new, but rather that it offers an opportunity to children of all abilities to learn mathematics in a more meaningful way than had heretofore been possible."

(From the Coordinator of Science): "The Chelmsford Science Program strives to match the changing role of science in our society, and progress is being made to develop an articulate program for grades 1-12.

During the past five years, the Chelmsford elementary science program has been changing from a science reader text (Concepts in Science) to a material-centered laboratory approach. After three years of trial, Science Curriculum Improvement Study (SCIS) was implemented in September 1971, in grades 1 through 3 and extended in 1972 to include grades 4 through 6.

Science Curriculum Improvement Study or SCIS, a National Science Foundation curriculum established in 1962 at the University of California, under the direction of Dr. Robert Karplus, is a sequential physical and life science program. It is a laboratory centered approach which combines content, process, and attitude, and provides each learner with opportunities to participate according to his own level of ability, interact with his peers, and improve his understanding of both the products and processes of the scientific enterprise. Children are introduced to knowledge of scientific content through their experiences with diverse physical and biological materials. And in the course of their investigations, they engage in observation, measurement, interpretation, prediction, and other processes.

The program helps children form positive attitudes toward science as they explore phenomena according to their own preconceptions, and they learn to cope confidently with new and unexpected findings by sifting evidence and forming conclusions.

The program has been influenced particularly by Piaget's theories on how children acquire, organize, and conceptualize information. For example, early units place heavy emphasis on concrete experiences following the Piaget theory that the elementary school child is able to rearrange the order of events in his mind, anticipate some effects of his actions and represent his thoughts to himself — as long as he has a concrete base of experience from which to operate.

The SCIS curriculum is divided into two subject area programs — one in physical science and the other in life science. Although both programs emphasize the use of the processes of scientific investigation, such as observing, classifying, experimenting and hypothesizing, both place greater emphasis on understanding of fundamental concepts.

The secondary level offers a comprehensive variety of specialized science courses which present the opportunity for all students to gain insights into the broad spectrum of science or to pursue in-depth studies in areas of specialized interest.

Several phases of the long range plan have been implemented during the past year. At the junior high level, trial of Intermediate Science Curriculum Study (ISCS) is continuing at grade 7 and has been advanced to grade 8 for those students initially involved in the trial.

Intermediate Science Curriculum Study, a National Science Foundation curriculum established in 1966 at Florida State University under the direction of Dr. Ernest Burksman, is a sequential laboratory oriented program based on individualized instruction.

The developers of the ISCS program had concluded that most students between the ages of 11 and 15 were progressing from concrete to abstract thinking and that members of this age group varied widely in their learning rates. Considering these factors to be of critical importance, the ISCS project developed an entirely new program for the junior high school student — a program that recognizes his individuality and makes the most of his emerging conceptual ability.

ISCS incorporates an instructional technique that allows each student to work at his own pace with content that is organized around some of the most basic and far-reaching concepts in science. The program aims at giving the student a general education in science that is applicable to the wide diversity of school and life situations.

The long range plan calls for continuing the trial at the seventh and eighth grade level and extending it to the ninth grade for students presently involved in the program.

At the high school level, all of the science curriculum offerings are inquiry oriented with the major emphasis placed on laboratory experiences as the learning process. In the area of biology a trial of a field study component, utilizing the reservation areas in town, was successfully conducted during this past Spring. Plans call for extending this component in 1973 so that all biology students may be provided with the opportunity of having a field study experience.

A multi-level independent approach to the study of modern chemistry has been implemented in several classes. The program provides the student with the option of electing this course for college or non-college credit.

The future of science, including the role it plays in our society, will not be decided solely by the scientist but also by the non-scientist, as is evidenced by today's environmental concern. To make wise decisions, the non-scientist will have to have an understanding of the real nature of science. The Chelmsford Science Program is aiming for this goal."

(From the Coordinator of Social Studies): "The social studies program in 1971 was marked by greater effort in personally involving students in the Chelmsford schools in the activities of their own community. Since one of the goals of the social studies program is the development of citizens who are 'personally involved in improving the society they have inherited,' it seems only fitting that this intelligent participation in community affairs and in the use of the community's resources serve as an integral part of the child's school experiences.

During 1972 students at Chelmsford High School participated in a field study on the 'new politics' as part of their modern problems elective course. These students engaged in polling activities, voter registration, and stumping for individual candidates or town political committees. Candidates and representatives from interest groups in Chelmsford visited classes at CHS or were interviewed on CHS-TV. The result was learning what never would have been possible from a textbook and a greater sense of political efficacy. Students enrolled in other courses at CHS conducted field work at the Town Hall, the Adams Library, and in a large number of public and private agencies as extensive assignments in their coursework. They also called upon a variety of resources both in and out of the classroom from the Assistant Superintendent of Schools and the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen to the former United States ambassador to Japan.

Junior high school students used the community in a case study examining decision-making at the local level. They used a variety of primary sources including local newspaper accounts and town meeting records to investigate factors involved in re-zoning land and the question of conserving the environment versus the building of low income housing. Groups of eighth grade students conducted field study into life in early New England by using the facilities of resources such as the Old Chelmsford Garrison House, Old Sturbridge Village, and the old burying grounds in Concord and Chelmsford.

Primary grade students continued their simulation of a day in the life of a colonial child at the Old Chelmsford Garrison House by engaging in a large number of activities such as candle dipping and soap making and examining early American artifacts. Students also observed changes that have occurred in the history of their community by visiting the Barrett-Byam Homestead. Many elementary school classes visited manufacturing plants, local banks, and other industries to study their economic system in action; while still other upper elementary classes conducted field studies into man's use and abuse of his environment.

Through all of these experiences students in the Chelmsford Public Schools have discovered that schools have no walls; that learning can occur on Garrison Road and Housatonic Avenue as well as it does on Billerica Road or North Road. These same students have discovered that they can get personally involved in their society and participate intelligently in it regardless of whether they are six, sixteen, twenty-six, or sixty. This participation is most meaningful when it is part of an articulated social studies program in grades one through twelve."

(From the Coordinator of Physical Education and Athletics): "The Department of Physical Education and Athletics provides four special programs within the structure of the entire curriculum. They include the Instructional Program, the Intramural Program, the Interscholastic Program, and the School Recreational Program.

The Instructional Program services the various grade levels of one through twelve. They include the activities of rhythmic, gymnastics, individual and dual activities and team sports. The depth and emphasis of the pursuit in each case is determined by the activity to be taught; the sex involved; the age level to be served; the skill or lack of skill demonstrated by groups; and the ability and experience of the instructor.

The various intramural programs provide an opportunity in a laboratory setting for the students to apply previously trained skills. The students are encouraged to participate in games, sports, and activities geared to their respective levels of abilities. Previously this program was concentrated at the secondary level. During the past year it has included schools from the upper elementary levels in basketball and softball.

The Interscholastic Program is identified with a greater enrichment opportunity. There is a strong identification with both the instructional and intramural programs. In most cases programs are offered at the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman levels. The boys' interscholastic program offers a total of twenty-four different teams and schedules while the girls' program provides for a total of nine teams and schedules. It should be noted that with the opening of the new high school in 1974, greater emphasis can be placed on girls' activities through the inclusion of gymnastics and track and field program.

The School Recreational Program is designed to provide worthwhile leisure time activity for students and hopefully, at a later date, for residents of the community. In this setting the students have the opportunity to apply knowledge acquired in the formal classroom. The student has the opportunity to see science, art, music, physical education, and other curricular areas in a new dimension.

Recreation, therefore, becomes an integral part of education as it fosters attitudes and develops skills beneficial to youth and adults alike."

(From the Program Supervisor of Art): "The basic goal of the Art Department throughout all the grades is to make each student aware and appreciative of his world through his sensory experiences. Art has a distinct role to play in giving each student an opportunity to experience a degree of empathy for his culture and for his fellow man.

The Art program is comprised of four facets: seeing and feeling visual relationships, the creation of art works, the study of works of artists, and the critical evaluation of art.

At the elementary levels, the program emphasizes the creating of art through a great variety of media and methods, while gaining knowledge about art objects in their culture and developing the ability to be discriminating. At the secondary level, the attempt is to realize all four facets of learning at a more intense and mature level of abilities. At all levels, theirs is a curriculum structure which serves as a format for growth and development of skills and expression inherent upon the growth of pattern, both intellectually and manipulatively, of students; it is kept flexible so that immediate needs and interests can be enjoyed and developed.

The members of the staff are constantly correlating their programs with other subject areas in order to make all phases of a student's school experiences as meaningful as possible.

The Department has grown with permanent staff housed in all but the small schools. This close association of Art with the other areas is now readily evident in very visual terms in hallways and classrooms all over the school system.

The High School area is the only one that not been able to develop fully at this time due to the lack of space in the present situation and its inherent problems in not being able to satisfy the needs of all of our students.

Efforts are constantly made, where applicable, to enter into community needs. Activities such as Holiday decorations for Veterans' Hospitals, posters to supplement the Safety Campaign sponsored by the Police Department, ecology symbols, decorations for Fairs, backgrounds for Plays, displays at Adams Library, are some of the activities entered into this past year.

Last June, the Art Department held the FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS in collaboration with the Music Department, in the hope of showing to our townspeople some of the many interesting things that are going on in our schools in all areas of the Arts. The response was enthusiastic and we are pleased to announce that the Second Festival will be planned for May of 1973."

(From the Program Supervisor of Music): "The purpose of the music education program is to assist students to appreciate, understand, participate and respond with sensitivity to music; and the music staff, both vocal and instrumental, is dedicated to this purpose.

Research and experience show that a meaningful program in our elementary schools has to have top priority as we rebuild and develop the music department. During 1972, elementary music specialists in each large building and two weekly visits to the small buildings saw many promising changes. During our summer workshop, a guide for grade one through six was developed and as the staff implement, evaluate, and revise each section, a meaningful curriculum will develop for all schools.

Additional instrumental staff saw tremendous growth in grades five through nine. While there were less than 300 at the close of school in 1971, there were over 450 in June of 1972, and over 700 in December of 1972. The high school will begin to feel this impact in September, 1973.

The string program continued to grow, and while only in the second year, over 100 students are taking part, and it is obvious that full orchestras will become part of our secondary schools in a matter of a few years.

General music classes in grades seven and eight have continued and an elective music program for grade nine was begun in September which filled a need as until this time music had not been available.

The high school has not yet been affected by many of these changes. They were active as usual. A successful production of the 'King and I' was the highlight of the vocal department while the band had an Exchange Concert with East Providence, Rhode Island. Both combined talents for a Christmas Concert and Spring Concert. The band, majorettes, and color guard added to the festivities at each football game and the annual Memorial Day Parade."

(From the Supervisor of Instructional Media): "The staff of the Instructional Media Center is committed to the pursuit of the following goals:

Basic Communication Skills

Students are exposed to a myriad of messages, both in and out of school, which are transmitted through a wide variety of media. We believe that a graduate of the Chelmsford Public Schools should be able to understand and evaluate these messages and respond to them articulately and intelligently. The Media Center can work toward this goal by teaching the conventions and techniques of print, film, television, radio, etc., and by providing students with opportunities to communicate their own messages in a variety of media.

Effective Uses of Knowledge

Historically, libraries have functioned as storehouses of man's accumulated knowledge. It should be the responsibility of the Media Center to provide the student with resources of all kinds (print, non-print, human, community) and an ongoing program of instruction in how to use such resources. The Media Center should, by virtue of its centralized resources, be a force for integrating the curriculum and fostering communication among the students, the faculty, the administration, the public library, and the community as a whole.

Creative Interests and Talents

Education should provide every student with opportunities to nurture his interests and to discover and develop his natural talents. To achieve this goal, the Media Center must contain the physical space, the materials, and the personnel necessary for individualized, independent study and for active, creative production in a variety of media. This program should be sufficient in breadth and depth to satisfy the needs of all students, slow learners as well as the academically gifted.

Capacity and Desire for Lifelong Learning

Because people spend most of their lives outside a formal program of education, a measure of a school's success is its ability to stimulate its students' natural capacity, intellectual curiosity, and desire for lifelong learning. The skills a student learns in the Media Center and the areas to which he is exposed should serve him not only today, but for life."

(From the Head of our High School Business Education Department): "The business education department at Chelmsford High School has two broad sets of aims or objectives: basic business education for all students and technical or specific vocational competency for those individuals who plan to enter a business career. At the present time, approximately nine hundred students are enrolled in various course sequences within the business department. There are fifteen different course offerings and forty class sections meeting daily. In addition, mini-course offerings include basic typewriting, advanced typewriting review, IBM key punching, and personal income tax preparation. There are twenty-four business students enrolled in the cooperative education program working part time in local businesses.

Two new courses are being offered for the college-bound students: Personal Typewriting — there are nine divisions with approximately 240 students enrolled; and Introduction to Modern Data Processing and Computer Programming — two divisions with 30 students enrolled."

(From the Head of our Secondary Foreign Language Department): "At the Senior High School, the mini course offerings were expanded to include: Chinese, French, German, Greek, Hebrew, Italian, Portugese, Russian, Spanish and Swedish. Native speakers were recruited from the community, the school system and nearby Lowell Technological Institute.

Individual study programs are still being offered to some students in Spanish and German. These programs stress student learning at an individualized rate of speed and closely incorporate numerous educational aids.

A fifteen day summer workshop was devoted to curriculum planning and development. A significant addition to the foreign language curriculum are the two-year terminal programs which are now ready for implementation. A note of interest: Enrollment in foreign language classes at Chelmsford High School, especially at the upper levels, has been on the increase. Nationally, enrollment in Foreign Language Classes has been decreasing."

(From the Head of our Secondary Industrial Arts Department): "The Industrial Arts and Home Economics Departments of the school system continue to have an increase of students as students become more aware of the various opportunities that are available to them in the area of career preparation.

A summer workshop was held for four Industrial Art teachers to update the Industrial Arts IV program from one of in depth study of woodworking, metalworking and printing areas to a course of study that introduces students to the study of American Industry through the investigation of Industrial Relations, Plant Engineering, Manufacturing, Production, Marketing and Finance.

The Home Economics Department also held a second summer workshop to update the Home Economics III programs. The summer workshop held during the summer of 1971 was recognized by the evaluating committee that gave both the Home Economics and Industrial Art Departments outstanding recommendations.

The School Committee has instructed the administration of the school department to implement Home Economics and Industrial Arts in grade 8 for the school year 1973.

Introduction of these learning experiences will help students at an earlier age to become aware of careers clusters and avocational areas that are centered around manual dexterity.

With the opening of the new high school the projection shows career education courses in the 7th grade, and hopefully in the future career awareness can be introduced into the grades K-6 in various career clusters such as communications, transportation, manufacturing, and environmental control, to cite but a few of the areas or clusters.

In all of the above programs the basic goals are to assist students in developing self-identity, good attitudes, and in expanding career knowledge and occupational skills leading to appropriate placement and/or continuing education at the end of their high school education."

(From the Head of our Secondary Guidance Department): "The Guidance Department at the Secondary level can best be defined as the services available to each student to facilitate his academic success in school; to help him better understand his strengths and limitations; to identify his interests; to aid him in planning for and attaining realistic goals. The emphasis is always on the individual, even when students meet in groups for guidance purposes.

Counseling caseloads are increasing as the school population increases. However, group approaches are being utilized in an effort to bring services to all who need them. This is especially so at the McFarlin and Junior High School.

Every pupil has a counselor to whom he can turn for assistance and parents are always welcomed to discuss problems of mutual concern.

The Cooperative-Work/Study Program now in its third year continues to offer terminal students a head start into the employment market, providing students with valuable on-the-job training and experiences that otherwise might not be available to them.

Computer services are again available to High School students through the cooperative efforts of Nashoba Tech. There are separate information banks offering students the opportunity to explore:

1. All 4 year college options in the U.S.
2. All 2 year college options in the U.S.
3. Vocational Tech opportunities available in Massachusetts.
4. Hundreds of Occupational possibilities.
5. Numerous scholarship possibilities.

Psychiatric referral services can be arranged through the counselors at the three secondary schools."

The major event for Chelmsford High School in 1972 was the visit by the Evaluation Committee of the New England Association for Secondary Schools and Colleges. Prior to the visit in April, the faculty and administration did a self study. The Committee spent three days evaluating the high school in terms of the self study. The following excerpt from the High School Principal's Report is worthy of being shared.

"Chelmsford High School has been recommended for continued membership and accreditation for the New England Association of Schools and Colleges for a five year period based on the self-evaluation study and the report of the visiting committee. The Commission decision was sustained by the Executive Committee of the Association and by the membership at their Annual Meeting in December.

The visiting committee report contains many commendations pointing to the strengths of the school to include community and professional staff response to financial pressures, increasing school population, and other concomitant problems that attend increased demands on a school system. The community has committed its resources to the education of young people through a program of reasonable and necessary expenditures, and the professional staff has evinced continuous and genuine concern for improvement of services and programs offered by the school.

There are numerous recommendations in the written report that in the judgment of the Commission warrant the thoughtful consideration by the faculty, administration, school board, and citizens of the community. The self-study of the school points to the need for more continuous and in-depth evaluation of programs being offered. In the period of time prior to the occupancy of the new building, there is much to be done in terms of providing necessary funds for textbooks and supplies along with the development and eventual implementation of a broader or more varied program of studies.

The commission reviewed carefully the School Staff and Administration section of the report. Apparently, there is need to establish guidelines for duties and responsibilities of administrators, supervisory personnel, and all professional staff members that relate to in-school duties and responsibilities as well as the communication between the school and community. With an expanding school population and a school department tax increase of 118.6 percent in an eleven-year period (1960-1971), it is important that school officials develop a comprehensive public relations program. Chelmsford High School now has an excellent opportunity to establish needed change in both curriculum and a development of comprehensive professional and non-professional staff personnel policies that can be carried forth into the occupancy of a new building. The Commission is aware that the many valid recommendations in every section of the visiting committee report are dependent upon careful study and necessary implementation of many of the recommendations listed in the School Staff and Administration section.

The above is an attempt to highlight points identified during Commission deliberation. The body of the full written report contains numerous significant recommendations that if implemented should greatly improve the quality of opportunity for students served by Chelmsford High School.

The full written report is available and can be obtained from the Chelmsford Libraries.”

Health Education was expanded into all of the elementary grades and into the High School. All students in grades one through seven now study health education as part of their academic preparation. The health units covered include safety, nutrition, first aid, human anatomy, mental health, dental health, alcohol, tobacco and drug abuse, community health and consumer education.

The high school health course is available to all junior and senior students on an elective basis. The major units discussed in the health seminar classes are consumer education, mental health, drug, alcohol and tobacco abuse and family living.

The Evening Film Program continues as a successful part of the Health Education Program. Film presentations available to parents and their children are: “A Half-Million Teenagers”, an excellent educational film on venereal diseases for ninth grade students and their parents; “Boy to Man” and “Girl to Woman”, excellent educational films on growth and development for sixth and seventh grade students and their parents.

Tremendous credit should go to those members of the Health Education Curriculum Committee for the implementation of the Health Education Program into the School System.

In light of the new legislation to provide a flexible and uniform system of special education program opportunities for all children requiring special education and which is to be implemented in the school year 1974-75, the present goals of the special education programs are being re-evaluated. The new legislation requires an educationally relevant assessment of each child and broadens the program options of a school system in providing special services, including treatment and family counseling components.

Until the new 2,400 pupil high school now under construction is occupied in September 1974, the Chelmsford School System will continue to suffer from an acute shortage of classroom space. In the fall of this year, grades 8 and 9 were placed on double sessions at the Junior High School. As a result of this decision, there is now less congestion in the corridors of the school and the class size has been reduced, thereby permitting more individualized instruction. However, many of the after-school activities which should be an integral part of the educational process have had to be curtailed.

The shortage of classroom space also caused the School Committee to make its decision to request a waiver from the State Board of Education to defer implementation of the kindergarten program into the school system until September 1974.

The school enrollment on October 1st was 8,990. As compared to the enrollment of the previous year, the number reflected a relatively small decrease. A closer examination of the components of the total enrollment reveals several interesting points. As was predicted, the secondary enrollment continues to increase. The elementary grades where the population has been leveling off decreased slightly. The leveling off of the elementary enrollment resulted in no additional teaching personnel being authorized for the elementary grades in the 1973-74 school year.

In grateful recognition for long years of dedicated valuable service to the youth and citizens of the town, citizens, School Committee and colleagues recognize the retirement of the following:

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Teacher, Center School

Mrs. Irene Hadley, Manager, Junior High School Cafeteria

Mr. John Fay, Custodian, McFarlin School

Mr. George Tyrrell, Custodian, Junior High School

Special mention should be made of the fact that in November John T. Conrad, Principal of Chelmsford High School for the past twenty-two years, submitted his retirement notice effective January 5, 1973. His service remains esteemed in the hearts and minds of the many who knew him.

The number of teacher applications continued to rise this past year even though fewer positions were available. Even though financial conditions might indicate a lower percent of turnover, the 1971-72 school year saw a 9.6 percent change. Eleven personnel were added to the staff in addition to the teachers who had resigned.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Shirley Hardy, teacher in the Business Department at the Chelmsford High School, passed away suddenly on January 20, 1972. Her untimely death put an end to a long career dedicated to teaching the children of Chelmsford, a career in which she earned the respect and affection of all.

Mr. Frederick J. Witts, known as "Ted", was the Department Head of Maintenance. Death claimed him on April 22, 1972. The personnel of the Chelmsford Public Schools will remember his infectious smile, his ready humor and his dedication to his work.

Sincere thanks are once again extended to the town officials and boards, to the school personnel, to the Parent-Teacher Organizations, to the Educational Advisory Committee, and to the Citizens of Chelmsford for their cooperation and assistance this past year.

The change in the fiscal year of all communities in the Commonwealth further complicates the budget making process for all town departments. The fiscal year now begins with July 1st and ends the following June 30th. In order to begin this new cycle, all communities must present an 18 month budget to cover the period from January 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974. The school department budget is further complicated in that the summer pay for teachers for July and August 1974 must be included in the present eighteen month budget and encumbered for July and August payments. The reason for this is that legally the teachers have earned their entire salary by June 30th of each school year.

The School Committee shares the general concern over the fact that adequate support of our public school system appears to involve the imposition of an increasingly heavy burden on our local tax structure. This concern has prompted us to attempt every possible economy, short of those which might threaten to impair our present educational standards or facilities. We still consider it our duty, however, to work for the continued maintenance and improvement of our standards.

A summary of income and expenditures of the Chelmsford Public Schools for the year 1972 and the budget recommended for January 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974 is contained in the Finance Committee's Annual Report and Recommendations.

Stratos G. Dukakis
Thomas F. Markham, Jr.

Eugene E. Keller
Thomas A. St. Germain

The year 1972 was one of the highlight years for Nashoba Valley Technical High School, for we graduated our first Seniors with an exceptional record of 93 of the 97 graduates being placed in occupations.

Notwithstanding its short history, Nashoba Tech has done some very progressive things in the field of Occupational Education. It has provided many "Firsts" and by and large has created an atmosphere of excitement in learning and involvement. Following are some involvements and programs that are new, others that are of a continuing nature.

PROJECT MODEL

During the year Nashoba Tech was selected to act as a LEA (Local Educational Agency) to a State project identified as Project MODEL (Mobile Occupational Development Education Laboratories) which is a career development program and is comprised of four mobile, multi-media teaching laboratories designed to plug-in in a learning environment anywhere in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and provide job entry-level skills to specific population groups. The target populations for the first two years of Project MODEL's operation (1973-1974) are to be located in economically disadvantaged urban areas, in institutions for the mentally and physically handicapped and in correctional institutions. We expect to launch this program in mid-January 1973. Our District is being funded totally for this project.

MANPOWER DEVELOPMENT TRAINING ACT

The Manpower Development Training Act provides 100% State and Federally reimbursed training to people between the ages of 16 and 50 who are unemployed, underemployed or unskilled and preferably heads of families. The MDTA Courses which have been offered at Nashoba Valley Technical High School this year are Automobile Mechanic, Cook and Baker (Restaurant and Hotel), and Gasoline Engine Repairman.

ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Adult Education Program at Nashoba Valley Technical High School has been very successful with an enrollment of 1320 in the following course offerings:

Air Conditioning and Refrigeration	Heating & Steam Fitting
Antique Auto Body	Machine Shop
Antique Restoration	Ornamental Horticulture
Automotive — Men	Ornamental Sheet Metal
Automotive — Women	Photography
Auto Body	Physical Fitness — Men
Bus Driving	Physical Fitness — Women
Carpentry	Plumbing & Heating
Commercial Art	Printing
Data Processing	Printing — Apprentice
Electrical Code	Radio & TV Repair
Electricity	Secretarial Sciences
Electronics	Sheet Metal
Fly Tying	Small Gasoline Engine Repair
Health Services	Typing
Woodworking	Welding

EEA INVOLVEMENT

In a joint effort, the four towns allocated a percentage of their EEA (Emergency Employment Act) funds to Nashoba Valley Technical High School to provide programming services to our District Municipalities. These programs are used to provide computer services for the towns on the Nashoba Tech computers when they are not in use for educational purposes.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Our involvement with the Senior Citizens has continued with many pleasant experiences. The school serves a monthly luncheon to the Senior Citizens of our District and arranges programs of interest periodically. We have encouraged retired tradesmen to serve as tool crib attendants for our Adult Education and Manpower Development Training Act Programs.

LAP's

For the second year Nashoba has been involved with a Summer Workshop with Greater Lower Vocational Regional School and Montachusets Regional School to produce curriculum materials known as LAPs (Learning Activity Packages). When the program is completed the material produced will provide for individual instruction to all students.

COMPUTER ASSISTED INSTRUCTION

The school's Computer Center has developed a special program to provide CAI (Computer Assisted Instruction). The curriculum for the program was drawn up by the Curriculum Corporation of California, specialists in this type of curriculum.

Each student may work on material in reading, math, or English usage and grammar. In addition to these three basic courses, any instructor may create his own course which can be fed into the computer, to be taken by his own students in his particular trade area.

The students work in a special room built by the Carpentry, Electronics, and Electrical department students. Each student works at his own terminal which consists of a typewriter keyboard and a screen similar to television tubes on which the interaction between the computer and the student takes place.

So far the enthusiasm has been high. A testing program will be instituted to determine the progress made by each student enrolled in the program. Although our program and department is new, it has already been recognized nationally for its activities and programs. Computer terminals are also located in the four school departments in our District Towns providing services in the following areas: Guidance, Mathematics and Science.

VIPP

Our Vocational Interests Process Program is a program for special-needs students. It is now in its third year of operation and has provided a much needed educational segment for youngsters in this category. The original name (VAP — Vocational Assessment Program) was changed in the interest of better clarification of the program. In addition to academic exposure from 12:15 until 2:30 the students receive skill training from 2:40 to 4:45 in the following areas: Automotive, Auto Body, Machine Tool Technology, Metal Fabrication, Carpentry, and Electrical.

DRIVER EDUCATION

We consider Driver Education a necessary part of the curriculum in our school since our graduates would be very handicapped going into industry without the ability and the legal right to operate a motor vehicle. The school provides the required thirty classroom hours, the six hours of observation, and the six hours of driving. The Instructors involved have created such an unusual program that the State Department and the Registry have sent classes to observe and collect materials. Our school's Bus Driver Training Program is the only program that is recognized and authorized by the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles.

JOINT COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE

At the request of the District School Committee a Joint Communications Committee was established to provide a medium for communications between Committee Members, Students, Faculty and Administration. Its purpose is to resolve problems before they become serious enough to disrupt the educational process. The Joint Communications Committee provides recommendations to the Administration for remedial action.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council has put in a year of growth and involvement, and has made some meaningful contributions. Plans are in the offing for a federation of student councils in the area of Regional-Vocational schools.

The Student Council sponsored a Christmas party for the second consecutive year for the children from the Spanish-American Center in Lowell, under the direction of Father Luciano. It was a great success and the entire school helped with the party.

Local merchants donated toys, the Teachers' Association donated money, the students raised money by running dances, and both the teachers and students helped decorate.

OCCUPATIONAL REHABILITATION TRAINING

The ORT volunteers (Occupational Rehabilitation Training) have contributed in many ways since the first year our school opened its doors. This year was no exception as the ORT women have aided greatly in the organization and running of the computer assisted learning program; particularly while in its early stages.

Some of the women have assisted in the school library and currently are being considered for clerical help in the Guidance Department.

These women have been consistently helpful and their dedication has been most earnestly appreciated.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AIDE

The Community Service Aide Center was designed and remodeled by Nashoba Tech students. The building now houses the Home Economics section of the Community Service Aide and will house, in the near future a pre-school for the nursery-kindergarten aid section of Community Service Aide. The Center, which is on school grounds, faces South Chelmsford Road.

One of the most successful phases of our school is the Co-Op Program where qualified Seniors are permitted to work in their respective occupations in properly approved firms on an alternate week basis.

The Co-Op Program has proved to be a rewarding experience for our students and their employers; and the on-the-job productive work opportunity with bi-weekly remuneration tends to highly motivate the student and offer many valuable work experiences.

RECOGNITION AND AWARDS

The Distributive Education class at Nashoba Valley Technical High School won a first place trophy for their class display at the regional conference.

Mary Curran, a Senior Distributive Education student at Nashoba Tech was elected Region IV Vice-President of the Massachusetts Distributive Education Clubs of America, commonly known as D.E.C.A. which is the largest youth organization in the nation for students majoring in marketing and distribution.

Sandra McKinley won a first place trophy at the D.E.C.A. Leadership Conference in Hyannis. She qualified to represent Nashoba Tech by virtue of her winning first place at the regional conference. She competed against D.E. students throughout the state of Massachusetts. Sandy was chosen to be on the Committee representing Massachusetts at the National Leadership Conference in Los Angeles, California. She was one of eighteen students representing eighteen states in the area of math.

This year the Graphic Arts Department was named "runner-up" in an in-plant Student Graphics category competition for the entry "After you Graduate." This contest was sponsored by 3M Printing Products Division throughout the country.

MILL & HOUSE BUILDING PROGRAM

This year the house building program of the Carpentry Department was put into full effect. After advertising in the local papers for candidates who wished a home built a successful candidate was chosen and the Carpentry Department has been involved in the building of their first house. Other departments will contribute in their respective fields in this same project.

PER PUPIL COST

The per pupil cost this year was again reduced as the enrollment increased and facilities maximized. Nashoba Tech's per pupil cost for 1972 was established by the State at $1877, as compared to the State average for schools such as ours at $2118. This per pupil cost is the gross operating budget cost, divided by the number of students in the school. Vocational education, by its nature, is costlier than academic education, because of the highly specialized equipment and materials which are required for instruction. In view of this expense, the State has, for many years, reimbursed the communities and districts for vocational education at the rate of 50% of the net operating cost of the school. This reimbursement is designed to bring the cost of vocational education into line with the cost of academic education. Additional reimbursements of 100% for transportation and 65% for bond issue payments, plus other reimbursements, substantially reduce the reported gross cost-per-pupil.

LONG RANGE PLANNING

The District Committee through its Long Range Planning Subcommittee has established an Advisory Group comprised of interested and knowledgeable citizens of the four communities to work with the Long Range Planning Subcommittee to determine the future needs of technical education in our District. Many meetings and much work preceded a two part report which will be presented early in 1973.

SERVICES TO THE DISTRICT

Using municipal projects as instructional activities the school has continued to provide many valuable services to the four towns from most of the departments and most recently and significantly Data Processing services from the Computer Center. The school's involvements represent multi-thousand dollars' worth of services for the cost of materials only.

GUIDANCE

In addition to the varied services provided by the Guidance Department, some concentrated work has been done on Career Development which should bear beneficial results in the coming year. From the Guidance Department also comes the attached summary sheet which should be of interest to our citizens.

Auxiliary Police — 1972

The Auxiliary Police were called upon on eight occasions during 1972. The total man hours added up to 879.

During the summer months, a total of 480 hours were turned in checking the homes of the people that were on vacation. This brings up a total of 1359 hours donated to the town by the men of this unit.

This unit meets on Monday evenings each week. Among the projects being worked on during these meetings is a Civilian Defense Rescue Truck. The men have secured a van body walk-in truck and are in the process of remodeling and outfitting it. The number of hours spent at these meetings come to 1800. The grand total of hours donated by these men is 3159.

At this time I would like to inform the people that at midyear we added a new 1:00 A.M. to 9:00 A.M. shift to our night patrol. This expands our department to a 42 man permanent unit.

Also this year your Police Department has started the "Property I.D." system. This is a means of townspeople marking their property with an identification number. This is done by means of an engraving pen. These pens are on loan from your Police Department. They were donated to the Police Department by the Chelmsford Lodge of Elks.

In the month of December last year, your Police Department was made part of a nationwide Union. They are now Local 341 of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers.

In May of this year a Building Committee was formed to look into the possibility of an addition to the Police Station.

This year we lost 2 men from our department. Daniel Harvey resigned to return to private business, and Thomas Machado transferred to the Lowell Police Department.

This year while patrolling the roads and highways of our town the mobile units have covered over 401,793 miles. We would like to extend our sincere thanks to Bournival Chrysler Co. of Lowell for donating our Safety Car. We have seven mobile units on the road. Five of them marked and two unmarked Criminal Bureau Cars.

In conclusion, I offer my thanks and appreciation to the various officials and department heads, the Captain, Sergeants, Patrolmen and the citizens of the town for their continued help and cooperation. Because of their combined efforts I am sure that Chelmsford is a better and safer place in which to work and live.

Respectfully submitted,

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Frederick H. Reid, Chief

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

I hereby submit my report of the Fire Department for the year ending December 31, 1972.

Although the actual number of alarms have been reduced from previous years, we did have several multi-alarm fires resulting in large fire losses. Two of which were at the Middlesex Training School. Both were set. In each case all persons involved were apprehended and convicted.

A stepped-up fire prevention program was inaugurated in the department during the past year, with Captain Robert Spaulding being assigned to this program.

The 1971 fire prevention car has been replaced by a 1972 model through the continuing courtesy of Bournival Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc.

Quarterly inspections were made of all schools, nursing homes, and a medical facility as required by state law. Inspections of these facilities were also made at other times when deemed necessary.

Periodic inspections are made of the public areas and utility rooms of all apartment buildings. Several violations have been found and have been corrected.

All fire fighters participate in the in-service inspections of commercial and industrial buildings. Any violation of law or unusual conditions are referred to the fire prevention bureau. These in-service inspections have been well received by the business community.

A study is being made of the advisability of adopting a fire prevention code for the town.

In compliance with state law, all churches having kindergartens who do not have the required fire detection and alarm systems were notified and are complying.

This year the department has taken delivery of a new 1000 G.P.M. pumping engine. This vehicle is equipped with the most modern advances in the fire fighting field and already has proven to be a valuable asset to the department.

In addition, a new pick-up service truck has been added replacing one that was several years old. This vehicle is used to transport hose and to perform the many service duties required by the department. It is furnished with complete snow plowing equipment which is used to keep the five fire stations clear of snow and ice.

The department rescue truck which was originally presented to the town as a gift has been retired after many years of excellent service.

The newest brush fire truck has been converted by the men of the department to a rescue vehicle. This was made possible by the drop in the number of brush fires due to the ban on outside burning.

Training of personnel continues to be a prime consideration of the fire department, continuous throughout the year, consisting of both outdoor drills and indoor classroom instruction. The members of the department have received basic and refresher courses in cardiopulmonary resuscitation under the sponsorship of the heart association. Special classes have been held on the handling of all types of gas fires.

The department has made another advance in the past year consistent with modern fire fighting practices. This is the introduction of pre-fire planning. Under this system a diagrammed written plan is devised for coping with a fire in schools, nursing homes, shopping centers, etc. Each man is provided with his own copy of the plan, and in addition each engine company carries a copy with them. The plans are reviewed frequently and operational drills are held at the various sites.

This is just another phase in the department's attempt to provide the town with the most efficient fire prevention and fire fighting techniques possible.

For 1973, the department recommends that a 1969 4-door sedan now being used by the fire department be replaced with a 1973 4-door sedan.

The department is also recommending through articles in the Annual Town Warrant, the purchase of land and funds for preliminary plans for a fire station in East Chelmsford.

The men of the department have continued to maintain the high standard of courage and ability that has always been shown in the past. My congratulations and thanks to them.

Also my thanks to all town officials and employees for the excellent cooperation that is always given to the fire department.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE FIRE STATION BUILDING COMMITTEE

Eugene Gilet, Chairman

Edward Hoyt, Secretary

Frederick H. Reid, Fire Chief

Peter Vennard

Ralph House

In accordance with an article in the Town Warrant of March 1970, it was favorably voted and money appropriated to construct a fire station to be located in West Chelmsford. A committee as outlined above was appointed. Land owned by the town was selected, plans drawn, contracts awarded, construction started with the building being completed and occupied in February, 1971.

It was reported at the annual town meeting in March 1971 that there remained some minor items of equipment to be purchased. These items have now been purchased and the building has been constructed and furnished within the limits of the appropriation. The committee wishes to thank any and all who in any way assisted in the completion of this station.

The committee having completed its work in accordance with the article in the warrant respectfully request that the Hon. Board of Selectmen terminate this committee as of April 30, 1973.

Respectfully submitted,

The East Chelmsford Fire Station Site Committee completed its work in October, 1971 with the submission of their selection for the site of the East Chelmsford Fire Station. This was the property of Henry C. and Anna E. Shedd, lot 119 Carlisle Street.

The issue was voted on at the annual town meeting in 1972 and rejected by the voters.

Late in 1972 the selectmen requested the Committee to meet again and submit a site for the 1973 town meeting. Two additional members were added to the committee by the selectmen. Due to the problems of calling a meeting in December, no meeting of the committee was convened.

The selectmen and the fire chief acted independently of the committee to propose a site suitable to the chief.

For the committee,

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Louis R. Rondeau
Superintendent of Streets

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Chelmsford, Mass.

The following is a report of the Highway Department for the year 1972:

Year	No. of Reg. Highway Employees
1945	10
1955	21
1965	27
1971	35

The above figures do not include waste collection employees. The following is a breakdown for waste collections:

Year	No. of Regular Waste Collection Employees	Labor Expended
1954	3	$ 8,104.30
1966	13	61,712.31
1972	16	132,584.92

On January 1st, garbage collections were included with waste collections in the Highway Department. This necessitated an additional waste collection truck and three men to handle the additional refuse that had to be picked up. The town still maintains the dump and is open for Chelmsford residents on Wednesday's and Saturday's from 8:00 A.M. to 12:00 and 12:30 P.M. to 4:00 P.M. of each week.

Seven new streets, or approximately 2 miles of road were accepted in 1972.

The Chapter 90 maintenance project consisted of resurfacing approximately 2000' on North Road.

The Chapter 90 construction project was resumed in the spring with the complete reconstruction of Acton Road, a distance of 1600 feet. The road was excavated, a complete drainage system installed, gravel sub-base was placed and a bituminous concrete base course and binder course placed over the gravel. Guard rail was installed on both sides of the roadway where needed. In the Spring, the department plans to complete the project by placing the bituminous concrete top course, loaming and seeding and any other incidental work that has to be done.

Bituminous concrete Type I-1 top course was laid on Graniteville Road, a distance of approximately 800 feet.

Drainage projects included the following:

Pilgrim Road	— 30 feet 15" aluminum corrugated pipe, two catch basins installed.
Davis Road	— 24 feet 12" R.C. pipe, 32 feet 12" asphalt coated corrugated pipe.
Priscilla Avenue	— 20 feet 12" R.C. pipe, one catch basin installed.
Tadmuck Road	— 167 feet 12" steel coated and paved pipe, 25 feet 12" R.C. pipe, two catch basins installed.
Graniteville Road	— 78 feet 72" steel pipe, two stone headers built.
Chatham Road	— 160 feet 12" R.C. pipe, one manhole built.
Fairbanks Road	— 200 feet 6" perforated pipe.
Southgate Road at North Road	— 63 feet 10" asphalt coated and paved corrugated pipe, one catch basin installed.
Boston Road	— 34 feet 18" R.C. pipe, two catch basins installed.
Bartlett St. and Acton Road	— One catch basin installed.

Bituminous concrete sidewalks were installed on Boston Road, a distance of approximately 620 feet and on Church Street, a distance of approximately 1000 feet.

The annual Clean-Up Days were conducted during the week of April 24th through April 28th.

Two additional two-way radios were installed on two pieces of Highway Department equipment.

New equipment purchased for the Highway Department include the following: One Front-End Loader, One Sweeper Broom, One Dump Truck, One Waste Collection Truck, One Salt and Sand Spreader, One Steam Cleaner, One Catch Basin Cleaner and One Sewer Rodding Machine.

On July 21st, a sudden tornado hit the Town of Chelmsford. A minor catastrophe resulted with numerous trees being knocked down throughout the Town. A good many man hours were used to clean up the debris. We were very fortunate in having the Army Corps of Engineers from Fort Devens who provided manpower and heavy equipment to help aid in the clean-up work.

The usual oiling of streets, including mix-in-places, brush cutting, replacing and installing and making of street signs, painting of traffic lines, cleaning catch basins, rebuilding and repairing sunken catch basins, sanding snow plowing and snow removal, drainage and general maintenance was performed throughout the year.

I wish to thank the townspeople for their kind consideration and cooperation and the Police Department for notifying the department of dangerous conditions on the roads during the winter months.

1972 was a year of considerable progress in several areas of Board of Health endeavor.

1) The Water Pollution Abatement Program started in 1970, began to bear fruit. Thirty-four non-conforming sewage systems were ordered corrected. At year's end, 29 had been corrected, plans for correction of 4 others had been submitted and approved and one was pending. One offender had to be taken to court for refusal to correct his system. He was found guilty.

2) The Water Pollution Prevention Program continued to operate well. After 254 percolation tests and ground water determinations, permits were issued for 101 new systems and 115 repairs. Thirty-eight sites (more than 27 percent) were found unsuitable for sewage disposal.

3) A Restaurant Sanitation Program involving regular inspections, bacteriological examinations and follow up was instituted. Of the restaurants inspected, 63 percent were found unsatisfactory in one or more areas, pointing up the needs for a more vigorous program. (See Administration.)

4) Administration and Management. The time invested in proper witnessing of percolation tests and ground water determinations was half a man year in 1972 (254 tests at 4 hours per test). The heavy burden of other administrative, environmental and public health responsibilities of the Director left virtually no time for additional programs such as the much-needed restaurant inspection mentioned above. Rather than merely add new personnel to the office, thereby increasing the tax burden, the Board of Health decided to use sound business management practices in resolving the dilemma.

By raising the sewage system installation permit cost from $5.00 to $25.00, and repairs from $2.00 to $10.00, the additional qualified personnel could be employed by the Board on a part time basis, thus making more time available for other needed programs, with no additional cost to the tax payer. The new rates are consistent with those used in nearby communities. If the new rates were in effect during 1972, more than $3,000 additional revenue would have come into the town treasury. This would be more than sufficient to carry out the proposed restaurant program.

5) Public Health. During 1972, the Board of Health Nurse has been involved in following up cases of tuberculosis and other communicable diseases, and in visiting premature infants.

With the assistance and cooperation of the school nurses and Dr. Blechman, immunization clinics were held for pre-school and school age children. Two-hundred and fifty children in the 1st and 12th grades were given Diphtheria-tetanus Boosters. Sixty-nine 9th graders received mumps vaccine. Two-hundred and twenty-five 1st graders received Rubella vaccine. One thousand and sixty-nine students and personnel received Tine Tests. Three series of pre-school clinics were held in the spring. A total of 114 children were seen and given a total of 138 immunizations.

6) Solid Waste Disposal. Although the community voted to implement a full-time sanitary landfill at the Swain Road Site in North Chelmsford, a later development caused the Board of Health in cooperation with the Board of Selectman and Chelmsford Environmental Advisory Council to continue disposal at the Lowell Incinerator. The rationale for this change resulted from a regional incineration/reclamation proposed involving Lowell, several surrounding communities, private industry, and the Federal Government.

If Chelmsford "pulled out" of the Lowell Incinerator, we would not be able to become involved with the reclamation project later on. The project appears very sound from both the environmental and fiscal points of view.

The voters agreed with this proposition, and the first steps have been taken toward funding of the project by the Federal Government. If vigorous action is taken by Chelmsford, Lowell and the other participating communities in 1973, the program could become a reality. Otherwise it will probably be strangled in a web of bureaucratic red tape.

7) Mosquito Control Study. No progress was made in the study of mosquito control this year. Although additional research was accomplished on a low-level basis, no breakthroughs have been discovered in environmentally sound mosquito control techniques. The Board of Health continues to recommend individual control practices such as, removing all possible sources of stagnant water, and using repellent. Even the mosquito control professionals agree that spraying and fogging is an expensive means of obtaining a small degree of temporary relief.

8) Other Administrative Matters. A total of 720 permits were issued during 1972 for Plumbing, Sewage, Hot Water Tanks Installed, Trailer Park License, Burial, and Miscellaneous. Total revenues were $8,836.50.

As I will be retiring from the Board on January 22, 1973, I would like to take this opportunity to thank my colleagues on the Board, Our Director Mr. Morris, our Staff, and all of the public and private individuals in this community who have helped us try to make Chelmsford a better place to live. Together, we have made considerable progress. Thank you for your help.

The year of 1972 has seen the completion of a total revaluation of all property assessments in Chelmsford. As a result, we feel that all inequities and inconsistencies have been erased.

Probably one of the most perplexing problems of revaluation resulted with the Elderly Exemptions and a lack of understanding of the law. Persons over 70 years of age, who qualified in the past, were granted a 4,000 (valuation) exemption which in most cases exempted them fully. However, with revaluation, 4,000 in valuation meant only $132.00 tax dollars. Since the law reads 4,000 valuation or $350.00, whichever is the greater, the $350 clause applies to Chelmsford. Many elderly persons had a tax balance to pay out of their slim incomes and we can only say that the Massachusetts Legislature should look further into this law and revise the same so that our taxpayers in the autumn of their lives aren't forced to sell their homes and find housing elsewhere.

1972 Cherry Sheet receipts were up approximately $1,200,000.00 from 1971 but our Town Appropriations and charges were also up almost an equivalent amount. Recapitulation as shown in this report shows total amount to be raised by taxation up $432,728.19. A decrease in transfers and estimated town receipts accounted for this increase. Based on 1971 valuation, this would have resulted in an increase of $7.00 on a tax rate of $159.00. This would indicate that any increase in the 1972 tax bills was not entirely a result of revaluation.

1972 saw several new developments at the libraries, the foremost of which was the retirement on June 30th of Mrs. William Pickles after 13 years as head librarian. During that time Mrs. Pickles presided over many significant expansions of library service and won many friends for the libraries.

ADULT AND YOUNG ADULT DEPARTMENTS Circulation — 123,896

Noteworthy developments here include modifications in rules and décor. In order to automatically allow a sufficient time in which to finish a book the standard loan period for material borrowed from this department was increased from two to four weeks, with few exceptions. The reserve list was expanded to accommodate unlimited reservations, and a system was installed whereby books can be borrowed when a patron's card is lost or missing. In the Reference/Adult Reading Room a wall-to-wall carpet was added and shelves rearranged to increase book capacity and create a more spacious feeling; the attractiveness of this area was particularly evident in the Christmas season. In the periodical alcove and youth area, space was made for a contemporary paperback collection.

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENTS

Circulation — 82,352

Highlights were again the summer reading program as well as displays of children's art and the addition of a twenty gallon aquarium at Adams which has been a delight to young and old.

FINE ART DEPARTMENT

Circulation — 26,859

The Fine Art room had a banner year with marked increases in the circulation of films and records. Prints and posters were made available for six week loan beginning in November. Eighteen area artists exhibited their work here in 1972.

PROGRAMS AND SPECIAL SERVICES

The removal of a wall between two storerooms on the second floor gave us the flexibility we needed for small-scale programming. Our volunteer-run mothers' mornings (babysitting provided while mom browses) were popular enough to be incorporated into our regular schedule; likewise Thursday (Adams) and Saturday (Adams and MacKay) story and activity hours for 3-5 and 5-7 year-olds respectively. Weekly visits to area nursing homes to read, chat and distribute books have proved very popular. Talks and tours were given to 4th and 7th grade classes at both libraries and the librarian addressed four 8th grade classes at the Junior High. Book reviews given by Mrs. Bragdon and sponsored by the Friends of the Library were, as ever, well received. 70 inter-library loans were completed for our borrowers and 88 requested books were purchased.

PRAISE AND THANKSGIVING

- To the staff of Adams and MacKay, without whose eagerness to serve all else would be in vain
- To Audrey Carragher and the Friends of the Library, in particular for the prodigious effort that went into, and the spectacular results that followed from, their first annual used book sale, and for their many other services on behalf of the library throughout the year.
- To the Garden Club for their decorations and our other donors and benefactors who contributed more than 200 records and 500 books over the year.
- To our story-tellers and mothers' morning volunteers.
- To all who made suggestions or complaints. We answered 25 of them on the bulletin board but we value all; we can incorporate your ideas only if we can hear them.

CEMETERY COMMISSION

Arne R. Olsen, Chairman

Frank Hardy

Arthur J. Colmer

George E. Baxendale, Superintendent

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
 Town of Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The following activities report is submitted by the Cemetery Commissioners for the year 1972.

Pine Ridge Cemetery has had two new sections covered by sprinkler systems. This has accomplished the task of providing coverage for all of this Cemetery's grounds. The wrought-iron fence surrounding Pine Ridge has been scraped and painted and an increased amount of foundation work has been done during 1972.

Fairview Cemetery has had two flower gardens installed at the entrance gates. Large, overgrown shrubs were removed, resulting in a much more attractive appearance. Fairview has been limed and fertilized each year and extensive soil testing has been made this year to find the best PH factor necessary to grow a better turf.

Forefathers Cemetery had, as in the past, a year of historical work done. Lots were upgraded and seeded; foundations were repaired.

All other Cemeteries were limed, fertilized and kept in repair.

Following much consideration, the Cemetery Commission has adopted some new rules and regulations this year, designed for overall improvement of our cemeteries. We feel these rules will help make them more attractive and more in accordance with the wishes of most lot owners.

Copies of these rules and regulations are available through the Cemetery Commission and may be obtained from the Superintendent at the Cemetery Department Office.

Signs were posted in each Cemetery this year, asking lot owners to remove old pots, urns and plastic flowers, as this has been a maintenance problem for some time.

This year we have had 83 interments, listed as follows.

Pine Ridge:	52
Fairview:	8
Forefathers:	2
Hart Pond:	8
Riverside:	3
West Chelmsford:	10

During the year, we sold 46 additional lots.

Our income for 1972 is: $8,133.82

Net income from Operations: $11,698.82

The Cemetery Department wishes to thank the highway, police and fire departments for their cooperation during the past year.

David P. Ramsay, Chairman

Ralph E. House

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

The Park Commissioners met in the Spring and elected David P. Ramsay chairman. At the same time, Donald P. Gray was appointed superintendent.

All the parks were cleared of the Winter debris. Lawn seed, fertilizer, and loam were spread as needed. The lawns at the Town Hall and police station were cleared and maintained as were the baseball fields at Strawberry Hill and Roberts Field. The baseball fields also required additional seeding and liming.

The flagpole at Winship Park in West Chelmsford was repaired and replaced following an automobile accident. The flagpoles in the Center and East Chelmsford were painted during 1972. It should be pointed out at this time that the major flagpoles are checked and painted every two years. The Veterans monument in East Chelmsford required considerable repairing and painting in addition to a new flag line.

The park at North Road and Worthen Street was the scene of two accidents. Park damages for the first accident were recovered — the second is still pending. Neither accident involved a fatality.

New equipment required in 1972 included a vacuum attachment for the "John Deere" tractor and a new hand mower.

Thanks go to the Kiwanis for two park benches at Gallagher Park. Appreciation is also acknowledged for the flag raising and lowering to William Thayer at the North Road — Worthen Street park and to Vern Woodward at Winship Park. The co-operation of the Cemetery, Fire, Highway and Police Departments, the Tree Warden and the many Garden Clubs is deeply appreciated.

Edward Quinn, Director

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

During 1972 the Recreation Commission continued to provide an expanding variety of programs for boys and girls. New programs were very successful and old programs continued to grow as we attempted to keep pace with the growing demands of the community.

A complete Pop Warner youth football program, after several months of extensive planning, was finally realized. Four teams were entered in the Pop Warner system, supported by an extensive community-wide flag football program. The Pop Warner program is completely family oriented so that its value to the community can only grow.

Also, during 1972 in cooperation with the Kiwanis Club we sponsored a youth junior olympic program for both boys and girls. It was evident from the rather large number of entrants that this program would continue to be successful. It was a good community effort.

Youth baseball, basketball, hockey, skating continued to grow and continued to place a strain on available facilities. We did not turn away any one who desired to participate, but we desperately need to complete the community recreation facility at Roberts and the South Row School area.

The Chelmsford Chess Club and the Chelmsford Jaycees cooperated in special areas in providing family recreation programs. Again as in 1971 we provide a low cost skiing program in cooperation with Groton Hills ski area.

Specialized instruction in arts and crafts provided a more meaningful summer program at the 5 playgrounds we staffed during the summer months. A community tennis tournament and a special road race on July 4th were also part of our summer interests.

It is imperative that additional community recreation facilities be completed. During the coming months the commission will direct more of its attention to creating these facilities.

We are again grateful for assistance from all town boards and community volunteers. Such effort will insure continued success.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen

Gentlemen:

During the past five months the Dog Leash Law Committee has conducted a study of the leash law. We have polled the local citizenry through the local newspapers, community associations and through personal contact. On the basis of the information obtained, the Committee makes the following recommendations:

1. Properly implement with personnel and equipment to carry out the required duties during the 84 hours per week that the existing law applies.
2. Completely enforce the existing law, including prosecution of offenders.

3. Provide for reasonably prompt communication with the dog officer(s) at all times.

The Committee feels that these three things will adequately meet the needs of the community.

The Committee considers that this report terminates our basic obligations; however, the Committee's members will be pleased to meet with the dog officer for any discussions he might desire.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION

John J. Balco, Chairman
Florence H. Gullion, Clerk

Esther F. Blechman	(Resigned September 1972)
Kathleen L. Ehlers	(Resigned September 1972)
Donald House	(Appointed September 1972)
John McCormack	(Appointed September 1972)
Robert E. Howe	Jane S. McKersie
Lorraine A. Shea

The year 1972 has been one of challenge and change for the Conservation Commission. In February, the responsibility for holding public hearings and recommending restrictions on applications to fill or dredge certain wetlands under Chapter 131, Section 40, (The "Hatch Act or Wetlands Protection Act") was shifted from the Board of Selectmen to the Conservation Commission. In October, significant amendments were made to the act, giving local communities more control over wetlands development. The major feature of the new law is to allow local Conservation Commissions to place restrictions on the manner in which wetlands are developed, a responsibility previously held by the State Department of Natural Resources.

During 1972, ten hearings were held by the Commission under the provisions of the Hatch Act/Wetlands Protection Act. In addition to the direct efforts involved with holding hearings and determining recommendations or restrictions, the Commission devoted a great deal of time to developing operating procedures for implementing these new responsibilities, developing standards by which applications would be reviewed, attending regional and state meetings devoted to technical and legal reviews of the act and gathering data to enable the Commission to make its decisions in a sound and reasonable manner.

The Commission lost several long standing members during 1972. Mr. Edmund Polubinski and Mr. Franklin J. Campbell decided not to seek reappointment when their terms expired. Mr. Polubinski was a member of the Commission since 1961 and was its chairman for nine years. His qualities are best expressed by an editorial appearing in the "Chelmsford Newsweekly" when he announced his intention not to seek reappointment. "Always a gentleman, quiet spoken and unflappable, Mr. Polubinski has been a hard working member, a moderating influence and a velvet-gloved leader — to the town's great benefit."

Mrs. Esther Blechman and Mrs. Kathleen Ehlers also left the Commission during the year. These individuals have made major contributions to conservation programs in Chelmsford over the years. They are representative of a group of people who were concerned about our environment and had the tenacity to do something positive to improve our physical world long before it became fashionable to do so.

Activity has continued in developing Conservation Reservations to be more accessible and useable by the townspeople.

Crooked Spring Brook Reservation

A Master Plan for the development of the reservation was completed during 1972. A committee was formed to begin implementation of the plan. During the winter months a dam on the reservation began to show signs of serious deterioration. The Commission has been working with the Board of Selectmen and Highway Department in attempting to repair the dam safely and with minimum cost to the town. The Neighborhood Youth Corps assisted the Commission during the year by planting trees along Crooked Spring Road. The Reservation has been extensively used during the year by students from the Junior High in their science classes.

George B.B. Wright Reservation

During 1972 further steps were taken to implement the master plan for the reservation. Trails were marked and cut, bridges built and a well was gravel packed and covered for safety reasons.

Lime Quarry Reservation

The Lime Quarry Reservation presented significant problems with vandalism during the year. Much of the activity on the reservation was directed toward repairing damages to signs and bridges. A large sign identifying the reservation was stolen during the year. It is difficult to imagine the lengths to which a small group of individuals will go to cause wanton destruction in an era of such environmental concern. But it is also heartening to see groups of young people willing to repair such vandalism and become bridge builders rather than bridge destroyers.

Deep Brook Reservation

An identification sign was placed on the reservation during the year. No major development activities were undertaken during the year.

Other major activities the Conservation Commission was involved with during the year:

- Under the leadership of Mrs. Kathleen Ehlers and Mrs. Esther Blechman, trees were given to first grade students to be planted at a site of their choice. The program was as well received as during the previous year.
- A long range plan was completed.
- A Natural Resources Inventory was started by the Soil Conservation Service.
- Several hundreds of man hours were spent by volunteer groups in the cleaning of each reservation under the nationwide "Spring Offensive" clean-up campaign.
- Miss Judy Falardeau was chosen as an "Associate Member" of the Commission from the Chelmsford High School.

This report would be incomplete without an expression of gratitude to the many Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Garden Clubs and other individuals and groups who have contributed their time and talents toward developing our reservations. It is not possible to identify all those individuals and groups in this report. Their efforts are most appreciated by all Commission members.

Gentlemen:

On behalf of the Chelmsford Council on Aging I wish to report the activities of our senior citizens for 1972:

Monday:	Arts & Crafts	Unitarian Church (a.m.)

Wednesday:	Hot lunch program	McFarlin School

Nashoba Tech hosts a lunch one day a month.

The School Department has been extremely cooperative in making the hot lunch program such a success. We plan to expand from a one-day-a-week basis to a five-day-a-week program for 1973.

Our senior citizens continue to help the community e.g. Over 50 pair of mittens were made and distributed to Chelmsford families, also hats, ponchos, etc. Over 15,000 volunteer hours have been given by our senior citizens of Chelmsford.

George A. Parkhurst

Robert J. Wolfgang

Acting under authority of Chapter 40, Section 8D of the Massachusetts General Laws, your Historical Commission is continuing to perform research on buildings and sites of historical importance to Chelmsford. As a starting point we are working from a list of some 100 existing houses which appear on the map of Chelmsford printed in 1831. This list was compiled by Mrs. Margaret Mills and the late Arnold Perham, both former Commission members, and Mrs. Jane Drury. A major activity during the past year has been the gathering of data on these houses for transmittal to the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Mr. George Parkhurst has taken extensive photographs to accompany this information.

A record of all pre-1830 stones in Heart Pond Cemetery was compiled and submitted to the Massachusetts Historical Commission at their request. A similar record is being assembled for Forefathers Cemetery.

The Commission has worked with other groups in Town organized for preservation of historic assets. In cooperation with the Bicentennial Revolutionary War Celebration Committee a plan is being formed to make the 1975 visiting public aware of our rich heritage. The Old Chelmsford Garrison House Association requested and received the assistance of the Commission in making formal application to have the 1690 Heywood Garrison House included in the National Register of Historic Places. A listing in this register is a requirement for consideration when Federal preservation funds are distributed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Several errors in names of streets and features have been noted on topographic maps of the Chelmsford area. A letter was sent to the United States Geological Survey requesting that these be corrected when a revised edition is published.

A program is being instituted whereby some of the more interesting old documents and records of the town will be copied on microfilm. Whereas all documents and records of legal importance are preserved in the Town Hall it must be recognized that it is not feasible for the Town to store all the old papers which may be historically interesting but not necessary to posterity. An example is the recent discarding of the old records of the Town Poor Farm formerly located at the junction of Billerica and Golden Cove Roads. These documents will be microfilmed prior to disposal.

In 1972 Mr. Robert Wolfgang was appointed to the Commission, succeeding Mr. Eliot W. Remick who declined reappointment for personal reasons.

The members of the Commission wish to thank the residents and Town officials who have cooperated and assisted in our endeavors. We look forward to continuing and expanding our program in the coming year.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

Much legislation is enacted each year by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts that has impact on the affairs of the Town of Chelmsford. In order to understand the full impact of this legislation and to attempt to influence bills that are being considered at the State House, the Chelmsford Board of Selectmen maintain a Home Rule Advisory Committee. The Selectmen have charged this committee not only with analyzing pending and enacted legislation for its impact on the town but also with recommending new legislation that would benefit the community. Although the Committee had been quite active when it was first formed in 1963, there had been less interest in it and the Committee had been of less service to the town in more recent years. The Home Rule Advisory Committee was reactivated in May 1972 and its charge renewed.

Since being reactivated the Home Rule Advisory Committee has completed a series of projects vital to the town of Chelmsford. These projects include:

1. A review of the 814 acts and 92 resolves enacted into Massachusetts law in 1972. Copies of 333 of these acts were forwarded to one of thirty appropriate town agencies for its information and action.

2. A comprehensive study was made of the new municipal fiscal cycle law which demanded an 18 month budget in order to place local communities on a July 1 to June 30 fiscal year. The study was reported to all town department heads, boards, and committees at a special meeting conducted by the Home Rule Advisory Committee. Information was also provided the local press so that the public at large would be informed of the impact of the new law on the collection of property taxes.
3. A thorough analysis of state legislation on equalized or 100 percent real estate valuation and its impact on state receipts to the Town of Chelmsford. The Home Rule Advisory Committee drafted legislation which has been filed and will be debated by the Massachusetts legislature during 1973. The legislation will provide for enforcement by the state taxation commission of the law requiring all communities to fully assess property.
4. The development of APPOINTED COMMITTEE HANDBOOK. This publication which will be made available to all town committees is designed to help committees focus their major efforts to the specific tasks assigned and to prevent technicalities and procedures from confusing and frustrating progress.
5. Organizing a mechanism to review all bills filed for the 1973 session of the General Court, following these bills through the various hearings and readings, and providing timely recommendations to the Board of Selectmen on pending legislation.

The Home Rule Advisory Committee is grateful to the various town agencies for their cooperation and encouragement in its work.

The members of the Home Rule Advisory Committee are indebted to their Chairman, William R. Murphy, for his untiring effort and leadership in behalf of the Committee.

CHELMSFORD HOUSING AUTHORITY

Claude A. Harvey, Chairman

Richard L. Monahan

Ruth K. Delaney

Robert L. Hughes

Roger W. Boyd

During 1972 the authority continued its effort to achieve the construction of housing for the elderly in Chelmsford. Action in this direction consisted of selection of an appraiser, an engineering firm and interviewing fifteen individuals before finally selecting an architectural firm to plan the project. In May, we obtained an option on land for the site. The bulk of the year was spent in reviewing and refining the proposed plans as they were received from the architect and piloting these through the Massachusetts Department of Community Affairs for their approval. These and other various state approvals have now been obtained and we are presently advertising for bids from interested Sub-contractors and General Contractors. Following the awarding of the contracts we will proceed with exercising the option for the land, located at the corner of Smith and Steadman Streets. The Spring of 1973 will see this project enter into its second phase — the actual construction of the buildings.

At the Annual Town Meeting Article 65 was voted unanimously, approving the board's action to proceed with acquiring the property at 34 Middlesex Street in North Chelmsford to be released to LARC (Lowell Association for Retarded Children) and used as a residence for Adult Retardates. In October of this year tentative approval of the application for financial assistance was received from the Department of Community Affairs. We are proceeding now in the lengthy process of completing this project, at present time appraisals of the property are being made. It is interesting to note that this is the first project of this kind to be funded through Department of Community Affairs and guidelines for future projects throughout the state are being formulated as we progress. Thus each step is being taken slowly and cautiously.

In June the Authority established a need for a Rental Assistance Program in Chelmsford and made application to participate in this program. Approval of our application was received in July and an article has been inserted in the warrant of the Annual Town Meeting for 1973 asking for the ratification of the Town of this action. This program will be especially beneficial for the people who are on Social Security but are not yet 65 years of age and so are not eligible for our Elderly Housing since the age requirement for state funded elderly housing is 65 years.

We are grateful to the people of the Town and the Town officials for their cooperation and interest in our work. The Authority meets the first Tuesday of each month at 34 Chelmsford Street and all meetings are open to the public.

SEWER COMMISSION

The Chelmsford Sewer Commission developed and presented to the annual town meeting a water pollution control program which in the Commission's opinion provided the least cost-long range solution applicable to Chelmsford. These articles contained a town owned sewage treatment plant coupled to sewers connecting lowland areas in both North and Center sections of town. The town meeting did not approve the articles. The town meeting did authorize the appointment of a study committee to select an engineering consultant to assess alternate solutions to the town's liquid waste disposal problems and to recommend that the Sewer Commission execute a study contract for this purpose.

The future remained unclear in that any new alternate would have to be less costly than already presented in order to obtain voter approval while the State desired rapid action on the plan already defeated. The new study committee could not be of immediate assistance so the Sewer Commission began direct contact with the United States Environmental Protection Agency to determine what type of river basin plan might be acceptable and eligible for Federal funding. The development of such a plan is the responsibility of the State and it was clear that only a large regional system would be a desirable alternate to the defeated proposal.

Although past economic analysis has shown the large regional system to be more costly than Chelmsford, the Sewer Commission has applied for a $15,000 planning grant to determine the economic and scheduling impact that would be involved in connecting into a regional system provided by the City of Lowell. The Commission will await the study committee's recommendation regarding a consultant to conduct the intra-town analysis and solutions and at the same time develop the cost of the inter-town plan. Hopefully we will have some definite recommendations by late summer of 1973.

REPORT OF THE TOWN FOREST COMMITTEE

Martin K. Bovey, Chairman

Bruce S. Gullion

Robert T. Clough

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

Our report this year is extremely brief, as the forests seem to be in good shape and, hence, have required very little work.

One day we shall want to cut out some additional trails in the Mill Road Forest, but to date we are not sure just where they should be located.

Relief maps of the Thanksgiving Ground Forest made by Boy Scout Troup 66 under the leadership of Frank Greatorex are in place, and the so-called Big Circle Trail has been marked with white dots. The Town Forest Committee is very grateful to Troop 66 for this contribution.

A fire — illegally set — burned about two acres at and near the Great Rocks. We have cut down and piled the many young pines that were killed by this fire. The only other important work in this forest was doing a thorough clearing job on the fire road that runs from the southwest corner of the forest to Russell Mill Pond at the Carlisle line. This trail was beginning to get a little overgrown.

Both forests continue to get considerable use, and yet there is very little littering. Your Committee hopes that those who use the forests will continue to treat them with care and respect.

Respectfully submitted,
MARTIN K. BOVEY,
Chairman

Youth Center Coordinator — Harry A. Foster, Jr.

The Chelmsford Youth Center began its second year of operation with the hiring of Harry A. Foster, Jr. as the full time coordinator in March of 1972. The availability of federal funds under the EEA Program, combined with Town support, has maintained the Youth Center financially for 1972.

The Youth Center, located at the McFarlin School, meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:00-10:00 P.M., and on Thursday from 3:30-6:00 P.M. We have many organized, as well as non-structured, activities which include:

Boys and Girls Basketball	Jr. and Sr. Life-Saving Courses
Volleyball	Ice Skating
Street Hockey League	TV, Movies and Record Listening
Ping-Pong	Jam Sessions
Bumper Pool	Yoga Classes
Various Games	Communications Workshops

As a service to the community, members of the Youth Center have participated in the Chelmsford Walk-for-Development, the Camp Paul Volunteers Program, and the Tornado clean-up volunteers. 180 Youth Center members have taken part in 6 field trips involving over 600 miles of travel. Future plans include expansion of programs and operating hours.

Since the hiring of Harry (Hank) Foster, Jr., attendance has increased to over 400 youths per week and programs available have doubled. We, the Advisory Board, commend "Hank" for the excellent job he has done for the young people of Chelmsford.

We thank Dr. Thomas Rivard, Mr. Lawrence Silk, the McFarlin School staff, the School Committee, the Recreation Commission, and the Selectmen of Chelmsford for their cooperation and encouragement.

The Engineering Firm of Fay, Spofford and Thorndike has been awarded the contract to make the preliminary study of building a dam and other related work at Crystal Lake.

They have been making extensive inspections of the area, taking test borings and working with the U.S. Geological Survey team, U.S. Department of Agriculture, (who previously made a study for the restoration committee at no cost to the town) the State Flood Relief Board and other appropriate State and Federal Authorities.

By the 1973 annual town meeting, we will have received a report on the construction necessary to restore Crystal Lake to the same or better condition than existed prior to the dam failure.

Particular attention will be paid to the following:

1. Method of cleaning the lake bed and regrading it in limited areas to improve its configuration.
2. Study of suitable types of dams which may be constructed at the site where the dam failed and recommendation of the most suitable considering both function and cost.
3. Preliminary plans showing the layout of the lake and general details of the dam will be prepared.
4. A cost estimate of the recommended method of restoration will be prepared. If more than one method proves feasible, costs of such alternates will be included.

Recommendations will be made at the annual town meeting to proceed with working plans and actual construction.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS COMMISSION ANNUAL REPORT

George Adams Parkhurst, Chairman

John C. Alden

Walter R. Hedlund

Vincent J.R. Kehoe

J. Perry Richardson

The Bicentennial Commission has adopted a general overall program for Chelmsford's participation in the national celebration. It is planned to officially open the celebration with a special program on Sunday, April 20, 1975. This is to be followed by a "Kick-off Banquet" on Tuesday evening, April 22nd. Sponsored and sanctioned activities will be held at least monthly from then until the climax of the celebration with the Independence Day Parade on Monday, July 5th, 1976.

A special red, white, and blue seal, or logo, has been designed for use on all official programs and publicity of events related to the celebration.

The Commission urgently requests the active participation and support of all Chelmsford residents and organizations. This is not to be a purely historic program but it will include the involvement of contemporary groups who are interested in making Chelmsford an even better place in which to live. It is expected that some long-term projects will be started in 1973 with a goal of 1975-6 as the completion date.

Anyone who would like to help in any way, or has a project they would like to have sanctioned as a part of the celebration should contact one of the Commission members.

During 1972 as in recent years the highlight of the local town celebrations focused on the Fourth of July Celebration in Chelmsford. The Fourth of July Committee must once again be complimented on their excellent planning and administration of this year's three day celebration. The main events this year brought several of the finest marching units in New England into Chelmsford to appear in the Drum & Bugle Competition and Grand Parade. In addition the Band Concert, Art Festival and Country Fair attracted thousands of people.

Preparation for these events actually commences in January with the extremely successful Winter Ball being held in March. Although the events are well attended the Town Celebration Committee wishes to encourage the townspeople to more actively participate and direct some of their own effort toward aiding the Fourth of July Committee. This serious lack of volunteer interest to support the Fourth of July Committee in their endeavors may risk the cancellation of the parade and related events in the very near future.

The Planning Board organized for the year with Timothy J. Hehir as Chairman, Peter J. McHugh, Clerk, and Timothy J. Hehir delegate to the Northern Middlesex Area Commission, David T. Kerry, Alternate to the Commission and Nancy D. Maynard, Record Clerk.

While the Board approved an increased number of subdivisions of the previous year, it generally appears that land for single family dwellings is gradually disappearing in the Town.

It has become quite clear as a result of the number of rezonings defeated in Town Meeting, that the Town actively seeks an updating of our master plan and zoning by-laws. It is in this light the Planning Board is placing before Town Meeting a proposal for the updating of the master plan and is now actively interviewing outside consultants to complete this work.

It is our hope that with the reduction of subdivision work and the aid of outside consultants work on the master plan, that responsible long range planning can become the prime function of the Planning Board.

The year 1972 was a very busy one with four elections to prepare for and numerous papers to certify. Special voter registration sessions were held prior to each election.

Two thousand nine hundred eighty-six (2,986) people registered to vote in 1972. Voting strength has increased to the point this year that more people voted at the presidential election in 1972 (14,407) than had been registered the previous year (14,292).

Two members of the Board of Registrars retired in 1972 after numerous years of service:

Charlotte P. DeWolf	1957 — 1972
Dorothy Borrows	1956 — 1972

A Sincere thank you is extended to both of them for their years of faithful service.

Special thank you to the Board of Selectmen and their staff, the Highway Department, the School Department, the Police Department, the Precinct workers, the League of Women Voters, the C.C.P. TREE DEPARTMENT

Myles F. Hogan, Tree Warden

This year the Tree Department has topped or completely removed over 150 trees of various species. The majority once again was the Sugar Maples. This department responded to 27 emergency calls during 1972.

Each year this department tries to accomplish a thorough pruning and removal program on at least one street while maintaining a spot tree removal and pruning program throughout town. This year we concentrated on Robin Hill Road where we removed 12 trees and pruned 64 desirable trees.

Our tree program was interrupted this summer by a tornado in July. This department's first effort was to remove all trees from houses and hanging or dangerous limbs from trees endangering the streets. When everything was on the ground, we joined in effort to clean up the mess with the Highway Department.

Regretfully, only three trees have been planted this year, and many of the trunks from trees previously topped remain standing.

Directly accountable for this is the lack of funds and having a dump that is available on a limited basis.

It is hoped in the future, this will either be a full time department or at least have a sufficient budget. At present, we operate on 1/3 the budget that surrounding communities appropriate and are expected to perform the same duties.

I would like to thank all departments that have assisted the Tree Department during the year.

Respectfully submitted,
MYLES F. HOGAN
Tree Warden

MOTH DEPARTMENT

In 1972 I responded to 31 calls in regard to insect problems, not only those on town property, but calls made by taxpayers who wanted to know how to cope with insects on their property.

The restrictions requested by the E.P.A., prevented the use of our previous spray program.

Areas of heavy infestation were Pine Hill Road, Proctor Road, Graniteville Road, Garrison Road, and Brick Kiln Road. In these areas the insects' nests were cut out of the infested trees.

An effective spray program with a sensible attitude towards the environment seems to be the only answer to this department.

Respectfully submitted,
MYLES F. HOGAN
Moth Superintendent

DUTCH ELM DEPARTMENT

This department has removed 78 Elms of various sizes throughout town. In addition, 12 private Elms that endangered the streets were partially topped.

Due to a budget cut, the Elms have not been sprayed for two years. Most of our remaining Elms are starting to show the effects of insect damage, leaving them very susceptible to Dutch Elm Disease.

Curtaiment of this disease, is possible by burning the diseased wood, however we have no area to conduct a burning project that will pass the state's requirements.

Gentlemen:

On behalf of the Chelmsford Community Action Committee I wish to report our progress for 1972.

We have been assisted by Mary Gagnon and Mary McAuliffe of Community Teamwork, Inc.

Rita Geoffroy is the Low-Income Representative to Community Teamwork, Inc. Board of Directors and Arnaud A. Blackadar is the Selectmen's Representative.

Once again a site was obtained for our present Headstart class — this is being held at the West Methodist Church, West Chelmsford, Mass. A fence was installed between the children's play area and a nearby canal to insure the safety of the children.

The Chelmsford CAC was instrumental in obtaining a Code Inspector for an interim period through EEA funds — this was done with the full cooperation of the Board of Selectmen.

Through the efforts of one of our members working closely not only with Headstart but also with the Board of Selectmen, four low-income people obtained jobs with EEA (Emergency Employment Act).

Once again the Headstart youngsters enjoyed a Christmas party. Senior Citizens made mittens and hats.

Many more families benefited this year at Thanksgiving and Christmas with food, clothing and toys because each year we expand the ratio of organizations, Churches and committees that work hand-in-hand with the Chelmsford Community Action in developing lines of communication and building bridges between all segments of the community.

This year resignations were received, due to business commitments, from Paul A. Desmond, Charles H. Mercer, and Herbert Pitta. They were replaced by James M. Harrington, Richard F. Scott, and James Emanouil.

New additions to Giant Store Warehouse, and construction of an enclosed mall-type shopping center off Chelmsford Street, have been started, with completion expected in the Fall of 1973.

This past year, the Commission accepted with regret the resignation of Albert E. Walker, due to his health. The Commissioners wish to acknowledge his many years of faithful service to this Commission.

Mr. Francis J. Doherty, the first full-time Industrial Commissioner, sponsored under EEA (Emergency Employment Act of 1971), also resigned to accept a better position, as this appointment was only temporary in nature.

During the year, an updated list of business employers of the town was prepared.

Early in 1973, the Commission plans to announce the acquisition of a new plant to be located in the Wellman North Industrial Park.

EMERGENCY EMPLOYMENT ACT
CONSORTIUM ADMINISTRATION OFFICE

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The Emergency Employment Act Office for the Northern Middlesex Consortium of Towns was opened in the Center Town Hall on October 19, 1971, to service thirteen Towns. The Town of Chelmsford is the sub-agent to the program agent, Office of Manpower Affairs.

The purpose of the Act was to hire the unemployed or under-employed for public service needs according to Federal and State guidelines. There were 137 participants in all Towns during this calendar year for a total expenditure of $554,914.28. $11,215.45 was expended for training and supportive services and $9,198.06 for salaries for the Summer Youth Program participants.

Twenty-five Chelmsford town residents were employed for a total salary expenditure of $97,723.75.

At the present time we are operating under a continuing resolution therefore, a hiring freeze is in effect. Due to this, twenty-six positions are open in all Towns, seven of these are in the Town of Chelmsford.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN R. CLARK
Project Director

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT
DRUG ABUSE COMMITTEE

On March 1, 1972, the Board of Selectmen established for the Town of Chelmsford the position of Administrative Assistant to the Drug Abuse Committee. The objectives of this office are: to maintain an on-going, purposeful and active relationship between the Committee, the community, and all agencies servicing the community, i.e.: SHARE, Solomon Mental Health Center, Interfaith Conference, etc.; to compile statistical information, maintain records and files, and to perform all administrative duties that arise; to represent the Town on the Board of Directors of SHARE — the area's Human Services organization.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSELL W. KERR, JR.
Administrative Assistant

PURCHASING AGENT

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Mass.

Gentlemen:

In January 1972, the position of Purchasing Officer was established by the Board of Selectmen and financially supported by the EEA.

During the year 1972, liaison with Town departments has been established. Some examples of total effort include: transfer of equipment no longer used by the School Maintenance Department to the Cemetery Commission at no cost, saving budgeted dollars; preparation of standard specifications for items which are required year after year and agreements for signature by successful vendors to assure performance. Many invitations to bid now emanate from this office and work is followed through to completion.

Good rapport has been established with the administration at Nashoba Valley Technical High School where work is performed for the Town for the cost of material only. A relationship has developed with Lowell Technological Institute and the newly formed Purchasing Consortium, of which Chelmsford is a member. We are able to refer problems of a technical nature, for instance, LTI accepted our proposal to study "The Effects of Road Salt on the Water Table in the Merrimack Valley", hopefully to be supported by a federal grant in aid. Because of consortium participation, a significant budget saving was possible for the purchase of road salt. Many other savings were made possible because of this central purchasing effort.

During the coming year, more formal procedures will be developed for the operations of this department.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT E. OLSON
Purchasing Agent

YOUTH CENTER COORDINATOR

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Mass.

Gentlemen:

On March 1, 1972, the Board of Selectmen established for the Town of Chelmsford the position of Youth Center Coordinator, whose salary is totally funded by the Federal Emergency Employment Act program. The coordinator's duties include the planning, scheduling and directing of all programs at the Chelmsford Youth Center.

The Youth Center meets at the McFarlin School on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:00-10:00 P.M., and on Thursday from 3:30-6:00 P.M. In addition, the Youth Center has had numerous special events and many field trips scheduled throughout the year.

With a continual effort to provide a wider variety of activities, our program has expanded its level of participation from 200-300 youths per week in 1971 to approximately 400-500 young people served per week.

Respectfully submitted,
HARRY A. FOSTER, JR.

The major accomplishment of the Chelmsford Environmental Advisory Council (CEAC), for this year, was the presentation to the March Town Meeting of a plan to begin a recycling program. Initial efforts were to be limited to paper and collection for recycling was to begin January, 1973. Following review of the success of this program, and as markets become available, additional recycling would be extended to bottles, cans, etc.

The CEAC also went on record as favoring continued use of the Lowell incinerator rather than extending use of the sanitary landfill.

During the annual Earth Day clean-up campaign, the CEAC recommended that all larger metal items, collected by the Ashes and Waste Division of the Highway Department, be sold for recycling to the Tewksbury shredding mill.

It is hoped that in the year ahead the CEAC will continue to serve the Town of Chelmsford, in an advisory capacity, in all matters concerning the Town's interaction with the environment.

The main responsibility and task of the School Building Committee in 1972 was the start of construction of the new 2,400 pupil high school. At the November 14, 1971 Special Town Meeting the voters approved a $10,240,000. bond issue for the school, making it the most expensive building in Chelmsford's history. Later the Town was authorized by the State Emergency Finance Board to borrow the $10,240,000. as voted. Sixty-five percent of the cost of construction and 65 percent of the interest charges will be reimbursed by the State. The first job at hand was to review the final plans for the building.

The architects, Day & Zimmermann Inc., of Philadelphia, completed the plans which were approved by the committee in the spring. Approval also was granted by various State Bureaus such as; the Bureau of School Lunches, the Department of Public Safety, the Sanitary Board, the Air Pollution Control Board and most importantly, the School Building Assistance Board. Many aspects of the huge school, from door hinges to lighting fixture lenses, from compactors to sinks and counters were weighed and discussed by the group during their bi-monthly meetings. It was the earnest desire of every committee member that each detail be covered as thoroughly as possible and that nothing be overlooked during the most important planning stages.

In order to save time, it was decided by the School Building Committee that a separate contract for the rough site work would be let out to bid earlier than the general contract. This contract was awarded to the low bidder, Northgate Construction Corp. of Waltham, Massachusetts, at a cost of $88,000. Because of the exceptionally large amount of boulders found on the site, an additional sum of $23,000. was spent on rough site work, bringing the total cost to $110,000.

An official ground breaking ceremony was held on Saturday, May 6, 1972, by the School Building Committee at the Graniteville Road site.

On June 12, 1972, bids for the general contract were opened. E.C. Blanchard Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, was low bidder at $7,157,211. and was awarded the contract. The actual construction work was started almost immediately.

The Building Committee was greatly pleased that both the general contract and the rough site contract were lower than had been previously estimated. They are hopeful that the school may be completed for less than the $10,240,000. limit.

In October, 1972, $8.5 million worth of bonds were floated for ten years at 4.4 percent. Most of this money will be invested in Municipal Bonds until actually needed. The interest accrued will help defray the impact of the taxes for the first year of the bond. At a later date additional money will be borrowed up to the $10,240,000. limit, as needed.

During the year one new member, Louis Murray, joined the committee to fill the vacancy created when Patrick Vaughan resigned. Mr. Vaughan had served the committee since its inception in 1970 but felt it necessary to leave due to business pressures.

Even though the July tornado passed over the school site, very little damage was done. A few tree limbs were knocked down, and more seriously, a construction trailer owned by E.C. Blanchard Co. was blown over and demolished.

Since July the committee has watched the progress of the construction of the building. Footings and foundations have been completed. The electrical, plumbing and steel work for the science wing are well on their way.

Mark Kiley, project engineer from Day and Zimmermann, was in close touch with all phases of construction and has kept the committee well aware of everything being done. Private testing companies were employed to make tests whenever necessary. Each month photographs were taken at the site showing the progress to date. Construction has progressed smoothly, and projected time schedules are being met with no major delays anticipated. Present projections call for building completion in the spring of 1974. Occupancy will probably take place in September 1974.

Currently the committee is planning to start the review of specifications of movable equipment. These specifications are being drawn up by the school administration under the direction of George Simonion, curriculum coordinator. Each item (some 920 in all) will be reviewed by a committee member before being advertised for bid and subsequently purchased.

Planning is underway for a cornerstone laying ceremony to be held in the spring. A time capsule will be buried at that time and it is hoped that the school children will contribute in many ways, both to the time capsule and the ceremony.

Another matter which came to the attention of the committee during the year was the possible use of the vacant Belvidere School by the Chelmsford School Department for classroom space. It was felt that the purchase price and the cost of renovations would make the building too expensive to purchase and so the matter was dropped.

The Recreation Lighting Committee asked our group to send a delegate to their meetings. Paul Krenitsky attended many meetings and worked closely with the group. The building committee voted to include, as an alternate to the high school plans, the lighting of the twelve tennis courts.

In addition to its other duties, the committee also had the responsibility of completing the review of equipment lists of the unaccepted schools. Meetings were held with the principals of the Byam, Westlands, Harrington and Junior High Schools. Equipment lists were reviewed and necessary items were approved and will soon go out for bids. Many purchases have been made and as soon as they are completed for each school, the buildings will be ready for acceptance by the school committee for the town.

It has been a most productive and satisfying year for the committee. Much has been accomplished and they look forward to another productive year in 1973.

In March 1970, the Board of Selectmen voted to establish a Task Force on Drug Abuse for the Town of Chelmsford to act as a steering committee in order to consolidate effort, make proposals, and act on the recommendations for the prevention of drug abuse. The result was that Chelmsford was the first community in the Merrimack Valley to become a member of SHARE, the Greater Lowell Program of Human Services.

SHARE is composed of: (a) Board of Directors, two representatives from each of the participating towns—Chelmsford, Lowell, Dracut, Billerica, Wilmington, Westford, Tewksbury; (b) Executive officers — non-voting; (c) a salaried administrative staff; (d) a salaried professional staff; (e) professional medical personnel; and (f) committees.

SHARE is financed by funds provided by the seven communities listed above, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the federal government. What started as a drug treatment and rehabilitation program, has grown to cover eight (8) individual modalities of treatment/prevention in seven (7) communities and become one of the most comprehensive programs in the state.

Morningstar — SHARE's Education/Prevention program is divided into four (4) program areas:

1. Adolescent Counseling Service — A many faceted counseling involving individuals, groups and families. The counseling deals with the underlying problems — family or school adjustment problems, poor self image, others — that affect young people.

2. School Program — These programs are in operation in the school systems with the cooperation of the school officials and boards. The program covers: (a) Crisis Intervention — Training school staff to meet the immediate needs of students in a crisis, by helping them get through a period of physical or psychological danger, using a team approach utilizing nurses, counselors, administrators and students. For example: Drug Policy Seminar; Counselor Student Groups. (b) Staff Awareness — Helping the school staff, who are primarily responsible for the adolescent's education, to become more in touch with student's feelings as well as their own. Whether or not this awareness of feelings takes place can facilitate or retard the development and growth of young people. For example: Organizational Communication Course; Mixed Groups. Staff Awareness Workshop. (c) Humanistic Education — Exploring diverse types of educational experience which include affective learning and experimental education in order to broaden and intensify student's growth, development and ability to communicate. For example: Women's Group; Affective Learning Techniques Course; In-School Learning Center; Teachers laboratory; Camping, Mountain-climbing, and Travel Programs.

3. Learning Centers — Program designed to turn youth onto activities, worthwhile projects and their own inner potential before they turn off and turn to drugs or other forms of destructive behavior. Craftsmen, hobbyists and interested people provide instruction, encouragement, interest and motivation in a wide range of areas including printing, photography, macrame, yoga, electronics, etc. These centers also provide counseling to those who need it.

4. Summer Program — Camping, mountain-climbing, traveling and mobile learning centers constitute the summer program. The effort is to enlarge the scope of young people through experience.

Anabasis House — A drug-free, therapeutic community that welcomes young people with emotional problems. The medical and psychological needs of young people are administered to in a family-type living modality. They receive round-the-clock care in this structured environment and humanistic psychology to pull themselves together. Each resident must adhere to scheduled household chores daily as well as therapy sessions if he or she wants to remain in the house. Anabasis House is licensed by the Department of Mental Health.

Emergency Hotline — Operated 24 hours a day, manned by trained young people, it often makes the difference to someone in need. Approximately 50 callers a month seek salve for many varied wounds — loneliness, despair, a bad trip, an OD, neglect. The problems are referred to areas of special need and are coordinated with the emergency wards of the three local hospitals.

Clinic — The Methadone Clinic has been cited by the Federal Food and Drug Administration for the highest control standards in the entire country. Dr. Ray S. Gilmore, who supervises the program, combines the methadone with encounter therapy in order to change the life style of the young people so that they become drug-free. SHARE does not believe in permanent methadone maintenance. Most patients are weaned slowly off the medication in conjunction with intensive counseling and group therapy.

Vocational Rehabilitation — SHARE counselors work with many agencies to facilitate education, job training and job placement. The final goal is to achieve a meaningful work or educational experience for each person.

SHARE is involved in Chelmsford through adolescent counseling. Summer programs, Anabasis House, Emergency Hotline and the Clinic. In addition, under the auspices of Dr. Thomas L. Rivard, Superintendent of Schools, Mr. George Simonian, Curricular Coordinator, is presently working with SHARE to develop and implement a number of programs. One, "Exploring Affective Education", will be instituted with Chelmsford teachers and administrators. Another, a Social Services series for parents will be presented in the latter part of 1973.

The Task Force wishes to express its appreciation for support given by the Board of Selectmen.

REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE COMMISSION

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The Chelmsford Civil Defense Commission was increased from three members to seven members in the past year. Each member was assigned special duties to work with the various departments in the town.

During the past year school shelter supplies were checked and accounted for. The radiological kits were replaced with new equipment by the State Radiological Officer from Fort Devens at no cost to the town.

Surplus property from the Taunton Surplus Property Supplies Depot was purchased during the year at a great saving.

The Communication Center participated in the monthly drills with Area I in Tewksbury and other towns, and we are grateful to our Communications Officer Melvin de Jager for the time and tireless effort he has put into the Chelmsford Communications Center.

The Auxiliary Police have been called out on many occasions this past year. These men have also spent many hours training in First Aid, Riot Control, etc. They have maintained and repaired the Police Auxiliary Building and will have their Police Auxiliary Rescue Truck completed within the next year.

During the summer Chelmsford was hit by a tornado, which did considerable damage to homes and businesses. Many trees were knocked down, causing power failures throughout the town. Civil Defense was activated, and coordinated the efforts of all the local departments.

The State Civil Defense Director, Area I Director, and Section ID Director were all in constant communication with us during the emergency, and were instrumental in securing aid from the State Department of Public Works, and other state agencies.

Civil Defense Directors from the towns of Billerica, Townsend, Groton and Tewksbury sent personnel and equipment to clear the roads of fallen trees and other debris left in the wake of the tornado.

The United States Army from Fort Devens spent considerable time and effort with many pieces of large equipment and personnel cleaning up the remaining trees and debris which were left. We are very thankful that there were no injuries and no loss of life during the emergency.

Gerald Lannan, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen did an outstanding job overseeing the entire cleanup operation.

The Civil Defense Commission is continually updating its method of operation with mutual aid to cope with any future emergencies that may occur.

CAPITAL PLANNING AND BUDGETING STUDY COMMITTEE

Eugene J. Doody, Chairman

Arnold R. Blackadar

Robert E. Brogan

Marvin W. Schenck

Edgar P. George

Robert P. Sullivan

Eugene E. Gilet

The Capital Planning and Budgeting Study Committee was formed by the Board of Selectmen in January, 1972. The Study Committee was formed to determine whether a need exists for the establishment of a Comprehensive Capital Planning and Budgeting Program for the Town of Chelmsford. The Program's objectives were to provide an orderly schedule for the allocation of the community's capital funds to assure that:

individual projects will be related to overall community needs and goals;

capital projects will be undertaken on a coordinated basis;

the community will be informed that certain projects and expenditures are being anticipated;

needed public improvements will be initiated;

a coordinating point will be established for an integrated community communications program to advise the public, local industry and municipal investors that a Capital Planning and Budgeting Program exists in the community.

In the process of its deliberations, the Capital Planning Study Committee accomplished the following:

a codification of existing capital projects and existing cost schedules projected from 1972 through 1992;

a comprehensive survey of all town departments to assess capital needs for the period 1972 through 1979; an evaluation of the best method to arrange financing for the $10,240,000 high school bond issue.

The Study Committee's recommendations for the high school bond issue was adopted by the Board of Selectmen and resulted in a tax cost saving of $1,412,000 by the issue of dual bonds over ten years as opposed to a standard single twenty-year bond issue. In addition, the invested interest income derived from this unique financial arrangement is expected to yield a return of $200,000 which the Committee has recommended be encumbered for use in defraying costs of present fiscal commitments and thereby reducing the tax impact.

The Committee was also asked to evaluate and recommend the best method for allocating the $293,000 made available through the Federal Revenue Sharing Program. The Committee has recommended, in anticipation of an 18-month fiscal year and the anticipated major expenditures necessary for operating costs of the new high school, that the Revenue Sharing Funds be applied to maintain and control existing tax costs.

The Study Committee has recommended to the 1973 Town Meeting that there be established in Chelmsford a permanent Comprehensive Capital Planning and Budgeting Committee. Such Committee to be appointed by the Board of Selectmen and having seven members composed of the Town Accountant, one member from the Finance Committee, one member from the Planning Board and four public members.

For the Committee,

DATA PROCESSING COMMITTEE

William R. Murphy, Acting Chairman
Edward H. Hilliard, Vice-Chairman

Peter Curran	Stratos G. Dukakis
David J. Rafferty (Resigned — 6/72)	Mary St. Hilaire
Philip McCormack	Malcolm L. Stiefel

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

As indicated in last year's annual report, now that equipment and programming support channels are established, the committee has played a less direct role in supporting town data processing needs and directed its attention to performing its primary function of supplying advice and guidance in data processing matters as requested by town officials and departments.

The Committee has discussed data processing applications with the Town Clerk, Treasurer/Tax Collector, and the Town Accountant and the decision on the use of data processing rests now with these town officials. The committee has also made recommendations to the Selectmen on possible applications of the Nashoba Valley Technical High School computer facilities.

The Town Data Processing Committee recommends to the Board of Selectmen that the Data Processing Committee has fulfilled the goals for which it was established and should at this time be dissolved.

The Committee is pleased to have been of service to the town and would welcome the opportunity to serve the town again in the future should conditions warrant its reestablishment.

SUMMARY

The Charter provides a frame upon which to build, step by step, as in the past. Also, some changes have been included (see the Charter Report for explanations):

- Two open town meeting sessions
- Board of Selectmen strengthened
- Position of Executive Assistant established
- Recall procedure
- Capital Planning Committee formalized
- Long-Range Planning Committee established
- Charter and by-laws updating
- Ability to codify/change government structure
- Centralized purchasing
- Conflict of interest provision
- Changes from elective to appointive offices
- Sinking Fund abolished

Over all, decentralized government is reflected in the final concept.

The town government, as it exists now, represents over 300 years of growth. A Charter is only a small part of this growth — a bridge to the future.

In the final analysis it's what people do, rather than what they say, that counts.

Now you the people must decide the disposition — as it should be — by the power of the vote, in secrecy, at the ballot box.

We enjoyed most of the work, met many concerned people doing a good job, and are humble and thankful for the knowledge gained.

LIQUID WASTE STUDY COMMITTEE

Joseph Gutwein

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The members of the Liquid Waste Study Committee are pressing forward in their efforts to select an Environmental consulting firm which will define the liquid waste criteria for the town of Chelmsford. These criteria will be established by using Federal, state and local guidelines for the use and reuse of streams, groundwater and wastewater.

In addition to establishing the environmental standards the firm will determine where the criteria are being violated. An economic analysis will then be made of suitable engineered alternates to the Chelmsford sanitary problem. The Committee as well as many consulting firms, believe that economic alternatives to conventional sewer systems will solve our liquid waste problems.

Of the fourteen proposals received the committee has invited four firms to the town hall for further evaluation of the proposed services. One firm will be recommended to the sewer commission so that a final contract can be negotiated during early February. All of the firms interviewed have indicated that the study will take 6 to 8 months and will be completed for under $50,000.

NORTHERN MIDDLESEX AREA COMMISSION ANNUAL REPORT 1972

The Northern Middlesex Area Commission serves as the comprehensive regional planning agency for nine communities in the Northern Middlesex Area including Chelmsford, Billerica, Dracut, Dunstable, Lowell, Pepperell, Tewksbury, Tyngsborough and Westford.

ORGANIZATION

The towns are represented by a selectman, a planning board member, and an alternate named by the selectmen. A city councillor, a planning board member and an alternate named by the city manager represent the city. Together these delegates form the Commission which usually meets monthly at its offices at 117 Perry Street, Lowell (phone 454-8021).

The Commission retains a professional staff of about six (depending upon funding levels) and occasionally consultants to assist in the formulation of the regional plan recommendations and the maintenance of other Commission services.

COMPREHENSIVE REGIONAL PLANNING

As regional planners it is the Commission's primary obligation to recommend plans, policies, programs and projects which will serve the regional interest. It is essential that the Commission's recommendations be comprehensive and reflect a full understanding of social, physical, and economic inter-relationships in this region and among other regions. Comprehensive plans recognize the dependence and impact of one concern (for example sewer facilities) on another (for example industrial growth).

Thus much of the Commission's work is of a research nature — determining the characteristics of the area, defining the extent and nature of problems, and analyzing alternative solutions. Over the years reports have been issued on topics such as solid waste, zoning policies, community and regional data, public transportation, open space and recreation, housing, criminal justice, economic growth, sewer and water facilities. During 1972 reports on Capital Improvements Programming, Housing Problems, Preliminary Land Use, Incomes and Poverty, Recreation Core, and Short Range Sewer, Water and Open Space Programming were added. Most NMAC reports are available in local libraries. All may be inspected at NMAC's offices where a fairly extensive planning library is maintained.

PLANNING ADVISORY COUNCIL

The plan and policy options which will best serve our region are choices which the Commission must make. Clearly then, it is important that the Commission be locally representative. To be sure, there are State and Federal views which must be weighed in when selecting alternatives, but in the final analysis the locally based Commission sets the course. The Commission has acted to assure that it has a full view of local opinion by creating the Northern Middlesex Area Planning Advisory Council consisting of over one hundred individuals representing groups which have expressed interest in the future development of the region. The Council is in turn divided into five functional subcommittees for housing, environment, economic development, human resources and transportation. The Council and its subcommittees are asked to review and comment upon regional issues and to advise the Commission as to the appropriateness, feasibility and scope of plan proposals.

CLEARINGHOUSE

In addition to its technical planning and research functions, the Commission also serves as a "clearinghouse" for most grant programs available to local communities and state and private agencies under U.S. Office of Budget and Management Circular A-95. In this role it is the Commission's task to review proposed projects to determine that they are designed to meet documented needs, that they are environmentally sound, and that they are not inconsistent with areawide plans. Although the A-95 review is advisory in nature, it is intended to result in wise investments of federal dollars and is, therefore, relied upon extensively by funding agencies.

During 1972 project referrals affecting the town of Chelmsford included proposed sewer treatment facilities, a nursing home construction project and a subsidized housing application.

Also, projects of region wide interest reviewed in 1972 included several Community Teamwork service projects directed to elderly and disadvantaged persons throughout the region, water and sewer ties to the Greater Lowell Vocational Technical School, emergency call boxes on Route 495 and statewide recreation plans.

CERTIFICATION

Along similar lines the Commission serves to maintain local and Commonwealth eligibility for certain federal grant programs where there are specific technical "area wide planning prerequisites". These include federal sewer and water capital grant programs, open space acquisition, economic development and related public works projects, and highway and public transportation facilities. NMAC must be "certified" as meeting the areawide planning requirements before a grant applicant is eligible for funding.

Some projects falling under these specific areawide planning requirements of immediate concern to Chelmsford are sewer treatment facilities, acquisition and development of open space, and Route 213 and widening of Route 3.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Further, the Commission provides technical assistance to local boards and agencies to the extent time will allow. Most local boards and agencies rely on NMAC for census and other data, and there have been numerous requests for assistance in program formulation, grant application possibilities and preparation, evaluation of site plans, possible environmental impact, and the like. Special bulletins were issued on revenue sharing, drain design, and local planning organization. A newsletter is published monthly.

BUDGET

In 1972 the Commission assessed the Town of Chelmsford $8,261.02 for its share of the NMAC budget. This amount together with funds paid by the other eight members, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Commonwealth enabled a 1972 budget of approximately $106,000.00.

PROSPECTS

The Commission has much work ahead of it during the coming years. Detailing of plans for local implementation heads the agenda. The Commission will be participating with the Army Corps of Engineers in waste water studies leading to satisfaction of stringent Federal water quality mandates set by Congress in 1972. Extensive efforts to provide regional solid waste disposal facilities, public transportation, and major traffic improvements are scheduled. Housing and land use programs are now being readied which include specific objectives and measures for local consideration and action. Formulation of an economic development strategy is also expected.

The Commission is grateful for the support it has received in 1972 and in past years from the member communities, their citizens and officials. Intermunicipal cooperation is an increasingly necessary element of responsive effective local government. The Commission strongly believes this cooperation ought to be voluntary and an extension of local government so long as the result is a responsible and adequate response to regional problems and needs. In future months and years the Commission will be looking more and more to its member communities for manifestation of that support through municipal actions to implement regional plans.

TOWN ACCOUNTANT

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Chelmsford, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The financial statistics for 1972 are submitted herewith. Any citizen may gain more detailed information on any activity included by a timely request to the Accounting Office.

The year saw four major changes in the administrative offices of the town. The positions of Selectmen's Administrative Assistant, Treasurer, Town Clerk and Director of Libraries were all vacated and refilled, either by appointment or election. At all times the Accounting Office has been ready to assist in any way, the orderly transition in these offices.

In January 1973, many of the functions of this office were changed over to electronic processing in an effort to cope with the tremendously increased volume of transactions in a more efficient way.

The report of this year's activities would be incomplete without taking note of the retirement of Mrs. Charles E. Cummings from this office on October 31, 1972.

Commencing employment on April 16, 1956, in the intervening 16 years she became expert in all phases of municipal accounting. She was known as "Fran" to all her friends and co-workers and stood ready to help in any way possible. Such devotion to duty was an asset that is keenly missed in her absence. Best wishes for a long and enjoyable retirement have gone with her.

Respectfully yours,

ARNAUD R. BLACKADAR
Town Accountant
